TEN TOLA GOLD CHIPS.
OF SUPERIOR TOUCH AND CORRECT WEIGHT.
STAMPED ON EACH CHIP WITH OUR NAME.
NOTE THAT WE CHARGE FOR LARGE ORDERS ACCORDING TO OUR CERTIFIED TOUCH AND NOT BY MERE WEIGHT.
The quality of the GOLD CHIPS we are offering is superior to what you ordinarily buy from the Bazar Dealer as 100 Touch Gold. For all practical purposes there is no such thing as 100 Touch Gold in the world. All Gold above 99 Touch passing current in the Market as 100 Touch Gold in popular language. Just as you pay to a reliable firm a little higher price for getting a Genuine Article or superior quality of goods, so why not buy your gold from us, so as to be sure that you are getting in weight and touch exactly what you are told you are getting. Apply to any of our offices or to our Authorised Agents.

SPLENDID SELZNICK DRAMA

"THE DAUGHTER PAYS"

6 Parts—featuring the lovely star

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN

This production brings to light two questions which are of great importance to all families, in that they reveal two phases of home life besetting all young girls on the verge of the marital altar.

The author asks how great a sacrifice should a mother demand of her daughter in the name of filial piety, and whether a woman dare risk her future happiness by marrying for money.

Upon these questions, there is said to have been erected a super-structure that for sheer entertainment has rarely been surpassed.

The story has been adapted for the screen by R. Cecil Smith, the continuity expert who has recently been placed under contract to write exclusively for Selznick Robert Ellis, directed.

BOMBAY COTTON MARKET.

BOMBAY MARKET.

COTTON.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Bombay, Oct. 9.

A substantial drop of 149 to 137 points in New York futures has been reported to-day. The market declined on considerable long liquidation on bearish Bureau Report. Liverpool has been reported 67 to 63 points lower.

The Agricultural Bureau Report issued yesterday in New York and received here to-day shows the condition of crop as on 1st instant 55.8 per cent. This indicates a crop of 14,759,000 bales compared with 13,931,000 bales previous report, and 12,499,000 bales last year. The quantity of cotton ginned upto 30th September 1925 is 7,102,000 bales against 4,526,000 bales same period last year.

Messrs. Umrigar and Vesugar's New York friends Messrs. A. Norden & Co. cable under date 8th instant as under:—

"Cotton situation completely demoralised by approximate yield of 15,000,000 bales exclusive of linters. Lower prices appear inevitable."

Messrs. M. & B. Stern have received the following cable D/- 8th inst. from their Liverpool firm:—

"Owing to the unexpected large crop estimate and heavy ginnings the market may decline somewhat further."

Messrs. Breul & Co. have received the following cable D/- 8th inst. (5-35 p.m.) from their Liverpool friends Messrs. Reynolds and Gibson:—

"Bureau confirms largest crop estimates. Would effectually prevent Bull movement balance year, but decline from present basis will be strenuously fought by South."

The Report naturally created great sensation as nobody ever guessed that the crop upto now had made such an excellent progress as more than 14½ million bales. The publication of such a bearish report made the American markets very nervous and caused a sudden collapse in values both in Liverpool and New York.

Following a heavy fall reported in New York futures the Marwari Bazar opened Rs. 11½ lower with Broach April-May at Rs. 407½. At the opening Commission Houses and Exporters were moderate buyers and the market improved to Rs. 409/-. Selling by several Commission Houses and Japanese and European Exporters caused values to ease to Rs. 407/-, but the market again improved to Rs. 409½ on Japanese Houses buying and closed at Rs. 408½. At Cotton Depot, Sewree the market opened at Rs. 406½ and closed steady at Rs. 408¼ on Commission Houses buying.

Oomra January opened at Rs. 391½ and fluctuating within a rupee closed at the same rate. Commission and Japanese Houses were moderate sellers. Bengal January was nominally quoted Rs. 346½.

Our market for ready cotton continued to remain dull yesterday and the demand was nominal.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

COTTON.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

Bombay, Oct. 9.

During the week under review Home markets have been fluctuating and on the whole show a smart break both in Liverpool and New York as compared with a week ago. Early the market declined on Wall Street and local traders selling. Later the prices improved on some buying. At the close the market was easier owing to the bearish Bureau Report.

The decline has made further progress during the past week, under practically the same influences that produced a similar state of affairs in the previous period. Although there is perhaps nothing much in the outlook to lead to a pronounced recovery in the immediate future, it appears that the urgent selling has been completed, and after all there is a limit to short selling based on crop accounts alone. The fall of the last few days had been due to a continuance of favourable weather conditions in the cotton belt. However, the Weekly Government Report issued on Wednesday last indicated that the weather during the week was unfavourable and that insects were beginning to do damage to the growing crop. Nevertheless picking and marketing has so far made excellent progress, whilst the climatic conditions have generally speaking favoured the development of further growth. The trade is willing and anxious to take advantage of set-backs and consequently hedge selling does not last long.

The outstanding occurrence of the week was the issuance on Thursday last of the Agricultural Bureau Report showing the condition of 55.8 per cent. as on the 1st October with an estimated crop outturn of 14,759,000 bales, whilst the ginnings for the same period indicated a figure of 7,102,000 bales. The document came as a distinct shock both on the American Exchanges and locally and to the trade at large as it was considerably in excess of general anticipations. Reliable authorities had prepared the minds of operators for a figure around 53 per cent. and the official figure of 55.8 per cent. was therefore distinctly more optimistic than even those wh were most sanguine as to the general progress of the crop were looking for, and the indicated crop at 14,759,000 bales was half a million to three-quarters of a million above general expectations.

There is no doubt that such rapid issuance of official reports is telling against the volume of business as it is paralysing trading of any speculative nature and restricting operations to a very moderate extent, considering the fact that no sooner one report is out of the way and its influence felt than the market is confronted with the imminence of a further official document.

Trade reports from Mnchester reflect further improvement in conditions there and the cheerful tone and increased business have continued dring the past week. A large enquiry from many markets still persists and spinners are steadily getting into a stronger position. Nothing could be more satisfactory from a trade point of view, and a plentiful supply of cotton, with a lower level of prices, will undoubtedly help Manchester to a very marked extent.

The enquiry for American spot cotton also continues exceptionally good and the demand is for all classes of cotton.

On the whole, after the recent heavy drop in values caused by the bearish nature of the last Bureau, we are naturally inclined to think that a reaction is now quite probable in the very near future as the trade is sure to take advantage of such a lower level.

Locally prices showed little of no alterations for the greater part of the week, but the sudden collapse in Americans towards the end of the week made the market nervous here as well. European and Japanese Exporters remained out of the market, showing practically little interest. Compared with American prices, our values are still on a high parity and it is only a question of time before we shall see prices here ruling on the same parity as Americans.

The following were the changes in the Home markets as compared with last week :—

LOCAL FORWARD MARKET.

Bombay, Oct. 9.

Fully Good M. G. Broach opened on the 2nd instant at Rs. 423 and advanced to Rs. 424½ on Bazar operators buying. From this level the prices gave way to Rs. 416½ on Commission Houses and general selling in consequence of lower advices reported from America. On Commission Houses and Shroffs buying the values recovered to Rs. 419, but again eased to Rs. 416½ on selling by Commission Houses, and the market after sharp fluctuations closed on the 8th instant at Rs. 419.

Fine Oomra January opened on the 2nd instant at Rs. 408½ and going up to Rs. 409½ on general buying declined to Rs. 402½ on selling by Commission Houses. Recovering to Rs. 405 the market further eased to Rs. 399½ on Shroffs and Commission Houses selling and after some fluctuations closed on the 8th instant at Rs. 403. B. G. Bengal January opened on the 2nd instant at Rs. 359 and closed on the 8th instant at Rs. 356, the highest being Rs. 359 and the lowest Rs. 352½.

PIECE-GOODS.

Bombay, Oct. 9.

The Cloth Market with regard to Manchester piece-goods has remained quiet and inactive. The demand seems to have been diverted to local mill cloths at the moment. Owing to the anxiety of dealers to get rid of their holdings, goods can be had at concessions in the ruling rates, but buyers have been scarce. Several standard cloths have shown some reduction in the rupee rates. 45 inches Red End Grey Shirtings have declined in value by eight annas per piece. Dewhurst's Grey Shirtings have also registered a similar decline in rates. Pepperell Drills have shown some improvement. Owing to competition amongst the merchants of Grey Jaconets, values have declined considerably. In White Mulls there has hardly been any change. Nainsooks have been easier all round by two to four annas per piece.

The tone of the Manchester Cloth Market has been unsettled, although good cloth inquiry is said to be in evidence and better sales have been effected. Spinners and manufacturers, who are booking business are said to be accepting prices which show hardly any profit. More traders in Manchester are gaining confidence in present quotations which are said to be safe, but dealers here are rather nervous as to the future level of values and prefer to purchase from hand to mouth. The quotations from Manchester for Grey Shirtings have been quite out of reach of buyers here. Dealers are keeping in close touch with the movements in prices. Karachi merchants are reported to have done some forward business with Manchester. Merchants in Manchester are said to be handicapped by the financial stringency, which is checking trade developments. The labour dispute regarding wages has not been confined to Bombay. Some months ago the operatives in Lancashire applied for a minimum wage of 10 shillings per week per loom. This claim was refused, as also an application for minimum hourly rates for winders, reelers, warpers and beamers. On the 15th September there was a meeting in Manchester between representatives of the cotton weaving employers and the trade unions in this connection, but at the close of the Conference no settlement was arrived at, it being understood that the employers were unanimous in resisting these demands.

The position of local mill cloths has been steady, the demand being moderate from all centres. As values have increased, buyers are naturally restricting purchses, having already bought their requirements, which need to be consumed before fresh business can be contemplated. Some Calcutta and Karachi dealers have bought goods, on their own account in anticipation of making profits, which are still remaining on their shoulders. Since the beginning of the strike values of Grey Shirtings have advanced by ½ to ¾ anna, Khadi by 1½ annas and Fancies by 1½ to 2 annas per lb. After the Devali there are chances of mills re-opening with as many operatives as are available. But there is no doubt about the fact that the mill industry has been disorganised owing to the strike and it will take at least two months to bring it back to its normal condition. The losses sustained by the mills have been chiefly due to the Excise duty, the unfavourable rate of exchange, and the Japanese and Lancashire competition. As to the removal of the Excise duty special efforts have been made in all directions, but so far without any result. With regard to the unfavourable rate of exchange, the personnel of the Currency Commission has been unfavourably commented upon, and it is left to be seen whether a few more influential and experienced Indians are included in the same by Government. As to the Japanese competition the mill-owners will have to put their case fully, with facts and figures in support of their contention, before the Government and ask for protection. Evidence of Japan's broadening trade in cotton manufactures is indicated by the rise in the exports of such goods from 153,000,000 to 200,000,000 yen for the first half-years respectively of 1924 and 1925. Since the beginning of the strike about 60,000 bales have been sold and delivered amounting in value to about three crores of rupees. The present remaining stock with the mills is estimated to be at least 125,000 bales of the value of about six crores of rupees.

"In 3 weeks my face was entirely cleared."

Mr. Charles S. Abbott, of 28, Rendlesham Road, Clapton, London, England, writes :—

"In July last I contracted a very bad attack of Barber's Rash. My face was covered with the sore places and was very painful and swollen. I attended a Hospital for some time, undergoing electric treatment, etc., without any appreciable result. Then a member of the family persuaded me to try a bottle of Clarke's Blood Mixture. The first two bottles stopped all the discharge and the swelling vanished. In 3 weeks my face was entirely cleared and no trace of the complaint has ever reappeared."

CHRISTIAN PRAYERS IN INDIA.

The following statement has been issued over the signatures of the Most Rev. the Metropolitan of India, Chairman, Dr. S. K. Datta, Vice-Chairman Rev. W. Paton and Mr. P. O. Philip, Secretaries of the National Christian Council of India, Burma and Ceylon:—

"Sunday, October 11th, is to be widely observed as a day for the expression of national sympathy with the Indians of South Africa. We believe that if the present (so called) Asiatic Bill is passed, a large number of Indians born in South Africa will be compulsorily repatriated, and that the conditions of life and work for most of those who remain will be nearly intolerable. Violent feeling had been aroused on both sides by the legislation now under discussion, and while some European Christians have supported Indian claims, it is apparently certain that a determination exists on the part of the majority of Europeans, particularly in Natal, to press through to its consummation a policy for which they do not claim any moral defence. The resources of statesmanship are not yet exhausted, but those who are striving for a just settlement are faced by a condition of passion and enmity in which no progress can be made without a change of will and heart. We, therefore, on behalf of the National Christian Council of India, Burma and Ceylon, invite the Christian people to prayer on Sunday next, October 11th, for the Indian community, European community and Government and the legislative Chambers of South Africa that a way may be opened up to a settlement on the basis of justice and right.

ENGINE DRIVER ARRESTED.

CHARGED WITH RASH AND NEGLIGENT ACT.

The Coroner concluded inquest on Friday touching the death of Ganpat Babu Sankpal a porter of the G. I. P. Railway at Byculla who, it is alleged, was knocked down and killed on the up line near Byculla A Cabin by the engine of the goods train on the 1st instant under circumstances already reported in these columns.

The jury returned a verdict that G. L. Gambo the engine driver in charge of the engine was responsible for the death of Ganpat Babu Sankpal inasmuch as he was rash and negligent. The Coroner in view of this verdict ordered the G. I. P. Railway Police to arrest Gambo and charge him with rash and negligent act.

REPORTED THEFT IN STEAMER.

W. Masters, a barber on s.s. "China" lying at No. 2 Alexandra Docks reports to the police that at 12-15 a.m. on Thursday he placed £48 (Rs. 624) in a drawer which he did not lock and retired leaving the door of his room open. When he woke up he found the money stolen.

STABS WIFE AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

At about 12 midnight on Thursday there was a quarrel between one Kassum Jamal Bhisti residing Bhisti Mohalla, Dongri, and his wife Fatmabai (24). Kassum, it is alleged, in a fit of frenzy stabbed his wife with a knife. The woman died on the spot. Kassum then inflicted a wound on his neck with a view to commit suicide, but by that time the police arrived and stopped Kassum from doing any further injury. He was removed to the J. J. Hospital where he has been detained for treatment. The House Surgeon, having found Kassum's condition precarious, the police called Mr. P. L. Thakkar, Sixth Presidency Magistrate, to record his dying condition.

MANCHESTER HOPEFULL.

LONDON, Oct. 9

Optimism has been aroused at Manchester by the receipt of the American Government's cotton report indicating a crop of nearly fifteen million bales. It is pointed out that if linters are added the yield may total sixteen millions, this being the largest crop known. With the spinners assured of a plentiful crop, it is hoped improvement in Lancashire trade is in sight.—Reuter's Special.

cussion followed between the officials which came to nothing. Discussions and hesitation of this kind are not calculated to increase the confidence of the public, and the less there is of it, the better.

Before departing from the subject it is necessary to commend the thoughtfulness of the "powers that be" in providing press accommodation in the stalls where cushioned chairs are so restful. A boxing correspondent had ample opportunity to admire the uniforms of the bandsmen. but in the future—as in thepast—he would prefer an ordinary cane-bottomed chair at the ringside from which he will be able to follow the fighting more closely.

BOXING AT EXCELSIOR.

JACK D'SOUZA AND KID CHARLIE DRAW AGAIN.

It has become a habit with some of the rowdiest rowdies in Bombay to make a rendezvous of any boxing show staged. There certainly was a large number at the Excelsior Theatre on Friday night when several old friends appeared in the ring. At times it was very difficult to follow the fighting amidst the uproar of supporters who though cheering their "pet" when successful, incidentally brought relief to the other man by causing the referee to suspend the bout temporarily. Unfortunately some of these amiable gentlemen found their way into the stalls from which they disbursed their sweet eloquence.

The programme started with a four round contest between W. Cooper and H. C. Billimoria which ended disastrously for the former who was unable to continue after the second round when he sustained a nasty cut over the eye.

The four round bout between F. Merchant and J. S. Batwala was a one-sided affair as the former was too good for his opponent who however earned the sympathy of a large number by his plucky show. T. Singlehurst has improved considerably since his last outing and had no difficulty in defeating H. Judge over four rounds. But he has still to learn the value of a strong left lead. The ten round affair between Carlo Browne and Arthur Suares was a disappointment. Both men were fit and hitting hard and the "fans" were always in a fever of excitement awaiting developments which promised to be of a sudden and drastic nature. Carlo Browne was having slightly the better of affairs when the unexpected happened in the fifth round. For no apparent reason Suares was warned by the referee, and a few seconds later he slipped to the boards in a mix up. Browne just brushed his head with a swing in the excitement this moment, and was promptly disqualified by the referee. This decision was greeted by booing and marked signs of disapproval. There was no damage done and there was no intent to commit a foul. Surely the referee would have done ever so much better by regarding this error in the true boxing spirit in which he is supposed to be steeped.

H. Jansen began well his four round bout with R. S. Oomrigar, but the latter persevered and though sheer keenness carried the fighting to his opponent and won a well deserved victory. Percy Welcome followed up his late success by recording a victory against F. C. Billimoria. Here again the referee seemed to spot the wrong man. Billimoria to escape punishment would press up against his opponent who was thus hampered. It was evident to any, even casual, observer that Welcome was doing his best to make a fight of it, but the referee managed to find grounds to warn him for holding.

B. D. Chatterjee is only a novice but a plucky one as was shown by his display against the hard hitting Charlie Judge. His quickness and smart left hand earned him points at the beginning, but Judge settled down in the third round, and in the next one floored Chatterjee with a terrific right. The latter got up for some more and took much punishment until the referee awarded the fight to Judge.

The Jack D'Souza-Kid Charlie clash over eight rounds was rather a tame affair at the beginning, with most of the time occupied in clinching. Charlie had slightly the advantage up to the sixth round after which Jack woke up to some real hard slogging which raised the excitement to fever heat and levelled up matters, so that the verdict was a draw. A prolonged dis-

BOMBAY COUNCIL.

WORK FOR NEXT SESSION.

WILL SWRAJISTS PARTICIPATE?

Is the Bombay Swaraj Party going to take part in the next Poona Council session, which begins in Poona on 21st instant in view of the manifesto issued by it? The answer to this question is that no one knows what the Swarajists are going to do, as they have not yet made up their minds. The Swarajists are, however, sending questions and resolutions in their names, as usual, but whether they will actually participate in the Council proceedings remains to be seen. The final decision will be arrived at in Poona on the 20th of this month, when there will be a general meeting of the members on the day before the session begins. The central Council of the Party has left the question entirely to the local members, and it is in their hands to decide either way. If the members decide on taking part in the discussion, then it is likely that the session may go on for about twenty days in all. Otherwise, Government are likely to make short work of the many important Bills and resolutions. Some very important measures will come up for the final vote of the Council, like the major Municipalities Bill, etc., the Swarajists having taken part in the consideration of these measures in the various committees.

In the provisional agenda issued two new Bills make their appearance. One of them is for the collection of statistical information—a similar Bill was withdrawn by Government on the last occasion—and another is an amendment to the Bombay Smoke Nuisance Act. The Totalisator Bill, Municipalities Bill, Improvement Trust Bill and the amendment to the Bombay Children Act will be taken up for final disposal, since they have emerged from the committee stage. A number of private Bills also make their appearance in the provisional agenda. Mr. Advani's Sind Hindu Marriage Bill will be taken up for second reading, as also Mr. D. R. Patil's two Bills. Mr. Baptista, has given notice of a motion to introduce a Bill to amend the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act 1887; Mr. Bhopatkar will introduce a Bill for the amendment of the Revenue Code, and Mr. A. N. Surve a Bill for the amendment of the City of Bombay of Municipal Act. Dr. K. E. Dadachanji has got an important resolution in his name and that is for asking Government to draw up a "comprehensive scheme of sanitation and medical relief both in the Municipal and rural areas, to reduce the heavy mortality from plague, cholera, malaria and other epidemics in the Presidency." Mr. G. L. Patil wants Government that "within two months of the close of every session they be pleased to announce what action they have taken, or propose to take, on each of the decisions of the Council arrived at during the session."

Government have already circulated for the information of the different bodies concerned a draft Bill to bring the Bombay Stock Exchange under control. The Bill is a mild one, and imposes on the Share-brokers' Association certain necessary measures of reforms, as hitherto that body has shown no anxiety for effecting even the mildest measure of reform from within. The Government Bill cannot by any means be considered a strong measure, but it is all the same very timely. The suggested reform has already received the blessings of the the Indian Merchants' Chamber, and they have recommended to the Government that the Athay Committee's majority report should be given effect to. Even the Mill-owners' Association is not averse to such a reform of the Stock Exchange, and it may now be taken for granted that the Stock Exchange will, sooner or later, be made more amenable to public opinion.

MR. NASARVANJI P. PAVRI, B.A., LL.B. writes:—

"It is very difficult to say whether the readers of this charming booklet—THE MIND GOVERNS—are to be congratulated on the exquisite pleasure they would derive from the perusal of the same, or the talented and energetic author of the publication, no other than the publisher of the Sunshine Publishing House.

In a most skilful and ingenious manner Nietzsche, Meredith and Mr. Thomas Hardy are specimens of masterly exposition and lucidity—expressing in a few pages the sum and substance of their theories which the learned writer must have devoted days and nights to the study of the same.

Nor should we forget to do the fullest justice to the most readable of the love stories of famous personages, and wish they were longer and larger.

But what adds to the interest and beauty of this delightful little volume is a collection of some of the melodious and mellifluous lyrics from Hafiz, Omar Khyyam, Byron, Christina Rossetti and others—all solid gold.

We fondly and fervently hope that this delightful little volume may be the precursor and fore-runner of another magnum opus from the same facile pen."

THE CHALLENGE OF SOUTH AFRICA.

"Take away justice and what are empires but great acts of brigandage?"—St. Augustine.

"In making war on the Republic of South Africa, Great Britain professed to teach President Kruger exalted and righteous principles of government. President Kruger is now fully avenged. Not only are Indians worse treated under the Union Jack than ever before, but the colour bar of South Africa is spreading over the British Empire and it is now infected with the poison of the Boer spirit"—Mr. Sastri on Kenya betrayal.

To-morrow the nation observes the South Africa Day to demonstrate its sense of overwhelming indignation against the Asiatic Bill which is the apotheosis of predatory racialism and which is designed to seal the badge of helotry on Indians abroad. It is not an isolated act of injustice against which the nation protests but only the culmination of a continuous policy of humiliation and spoliation of Indians who have had to learn that for them there is no self-respecting place in the British Empire. That this hint should have come from South Africa is not surprising; for to Indians South Africa is a grim term behind which lies a story of sordid betrayals and broken pledges, insane colour-hatred and iniquitous racial discrimination. Dr. Malan's Area Reservation and Immigration and Registration (Further Provision) Bill is not a bombshell but merely the climax of a series of anti-Indian measures devised after the war, from the defunct Class Areas Bill on the one hand to various Ordinances aiming at depriving Indians of trade licenses or municipal franchise on the other. The fundamental assumption of all these iniquities is, as Dr. Malan in introducing the new Asiatic Bill observed, that Indians are an alien element in the population of the Union. We are only sorry that the Natives of Africa are not strong enough to give the only reply to this arrogant and immoral claim by treating the Whites themselves as aliens. Indeed, the presence of the White is every whit more galling to the interests and rights of the Natives than that of the Indian because while the Indian desires to follow his normal avocations peacefully, the White seeks to dominate and exploit the real inhabitants of the soil whom he has forcibly enslaved. But the great majority of Indians—nearly seventy-five or eighty per cent. in Natal—are not "aliens" at all, being African born, having forgotten their mother-tongue and having settled there for a generation. Moreover, Indians are not the only "aliens" in the Union; for there are Cape Malays and races like the Cape Coloured, the Mauritius Creoles and St. Halena persons who are exempted from the provisions of the measure. The Bill, in fine, is designed to operate entirely and wholly against Indians, particularly those residing in Natal, and it threatens to jeopardise their commercial and landed interests and filch their common law rights and their personal freedom.

In order to realise the manner in which this measure militates against the national honour of Indians and will, in practice, operate to the detriment of what remains of their civic status, economic liberties and social rights, it is essential to realise its full implications. More than once we have dealt with the main features of the Bill and have pointed out its sinister purposes and its probable effects. The Bill is divided into three chapters with a schedule. The first chapter follows the lines of General Smut's Class Areas Bill but goes much further than that; it deals with the reservation of areas enabling the Governor-General not only to "proclaim" areas for Indians to reside in but also to "de-proclaim" them, thus leaving no security even for a segregated populace. As soon as the measure becomes law, the various local authorities will rival one another in utilising its processes and machinery. "Class areas" will be demarcated in all centres where Indians live. In such a contingency, Indians will be compelled to settle and trade in locations and will not be permitted to buy or lease land except within thirty miles of the coastal line. But in the narrow coastal belt in Natal where Indians are to be herded together there is very little land owing to overcrowding while even within the belt, areas may be demarcated as Indian locations. Racial segregation which everywhere stabilises ghetto conditions can hardly raise the standard of life of segregated Indians whose mode of living is the perpetual excuse of the Whites for their policy of discrimination. In fact, the Whites complain that Indians are undermining their standard of life and also seek to prevent them from obtaining opportunities of raising their standard. But such proclamation of areas will ruin Indian businesses, cripple Indian land-ownership and endanger Indian existence; for compulsory racial segregation always involves the loss of proprietory and vested rights apart altogether from the civic stigma attached to it. The second chapter proposes changes in immigrants' regulations which will give almost unlimited power to restrict the entry and secure the deportation of domiciled Indians. As though the virtual prohibition of Indian immigration were not enough fostered as it was when Natal Europeans needed indentured labour for sugar industry, there are provisions in this chapter for making the absence over three years of an Indian a ground of forfeiture of his license to enter and for enhancing the deposit liable to be paid by a returned immigrant from £31 to £100, thus precluding an Indian immigrant from being able to pay a heavy bail and procure evidence of his domicile. There are sections in it enabling the authorities to declare all Asiatics entering a port as prohibited immigrants in a province even though they may possess domicile and vested rights in other provinces; no Indian will henceforth be able to acquire a dual domicile and two districts of Natal will be transferred to the Transvaal which has a singularly discreditable record in its treatment of Indians. Moreover, under the "Deeming Order", based on the assumption that Indians are economically undesirable, hundreds of them will be declared prohibited immigrants. As Dr. Malan chivalrously boasted, the Bill is aimed particularly at the influx of women and through the operation of section 17 no Indian will be able after 1930 or after ten years from his first entry into the Union, to come to India, marry and take his wife to Africa. It is a deliberate attempt to oust Indians a great majority of whom have no other country than South Africa. We do not propose to deal with other provisions of the measure involving serious infringement of personal rights and liberty of movement for enough has been said to prove its iniquitous character. Chapter III of the Bill applies to registration of Asiatics in the Transvaal and leaves their fate to the tender mercies of the Minister by abolishing the magistrate's right to grant them time-limit to have themselves registered. The Bill has been made retrospective so that land transactions have already been hampered. Compulsory segregation, confiscation of Indian proprietory and commercial rights, restriction of domiciliary rights and enforced repatriation without even the bribe of compensation—these are the practical objectives of the measure. Dr. Malan has frankly declared that its effect will be a large reduction of the Indian population through pressure. Gandhiji whose compact with General Smuts has been broken through the measure warned us in grave words, that "it is only a question of time when every Indian will have left South Africa." It is a menace as ominous as it is imminent.

Dr. Malan has stated that the introduction of the Bill will not interfere with the negotiations between the Hertzog Government and the Government of India while almost in the same breath he has said that the bill will go through. If that is the contribution of the Hertzog Government to the solution of the vexed question, a round table conference is absolutely futile. No genuine negotiations between the two Governments are possible without the withdrawal of the Asiatic Bill as a token of the Pact Government's sincerity to settle the Indian problem in a satisfactory manner. Despite all the provocation offered to them, Indians in South Africa, who are pursuing strictly constitutional means, appeal to section 147 of the South African Act under which Asiatic questions are vested in the Governor-General and request the Government of India, their titular protector, to move the British Government to veto the measure. It is a modest demand; for the problem of Indians in South Africa is in everywise an imperial problem affecting as it does the status and rights of the nationals of a country that is a member of the British Empire in a British Dominion. Yet we entertain little illusions about this course even if the head of a subordinate branch of His Majesty's Government has the courage to speak boldly to Downing Street. South Africa has already proclaimed its uncompromising hostility to Indian demands at the Imperial Conference and we cannot believe that the Imperial Government will offend the susceptibilities of a Dominion for placating a coloured, disarmed and disunited "dependency". For the issue involved in the position of Indians in South Africa goes to the root of imperialism and challenges the basis, the composition and the ideals of the British Empire: it is nothing less than the issue of racial equality versus white dominance, justice for the coloured nations as against white aggrandisement and exclusiveness. To-morrow's demonstration should be made the symbol of national determination to win freedom without which the imperial citizenship of Indians is a cruel mockery. South Africa has shown us that the alternative to national freedom is the degradation of our countrymen abroad.

Notes of the Day.

History and Hysteria.

At the hospitable quarters of the London Y.M.C.A., Lord Eustace Percy warned the Indian student community of the dangers of Communism. The subject is stale and provides ample scope for amiable generalities. In Lord Eustace's view, the greatest contribution of the British civilisation was its emphasis on the value of the past. It is a trifle rhetorical to speak of British conservatism and the accidentally constitutional development of Britain as ingredients of a "civilisation." The imperial history of Britain may broaden down from hypocrisy to hypocrisy; yet it is not any longing for the past but the confidence of the West in a future and its readiness to scrap whatever in its past hampers it, which are worthy of imitation. When Lord Eustace spoke of the "logical challenge" to civilisation, we knew why the heritage of India and the lesson of English culture were being extolled. If Lord Eustace imagines that it is the Bolsheviks only who hold that history is a series of errors, he is dismally ill-informed because one of the greatest historians of England has said that history is but the record of the crimes and follies of mankind. The central thesis of Communism, however, is not the rejection of history or experience but its interpretation of history in accordance with the materialistic conception of Marx who emphasised the importance of economic motives in historical phenomena. As for the destruction of education, capitalism by means of its intellectual mercenaries is no less a menace than communistic theory. The endeavour to pump in class-bias, vulgar snobbery and fallacious economics into the tender minds of children is not less detrimental to "the cultivation of mind" than the attempt to thrust a rigid theory; sane educationists should be as chary of exciting the bullying and acquisitive instincts of British children as of seeking to develop the submissive and docile instincts of Indian children by flag-worship, jingo history and Empire-days. Lord Eustace provides perhaps only another illustration of Hegel's maxim that men learn from history that men never learn anything from history.

Monogamous Marriages.

Mr. Adwani's Bill for enabling the Hindus of Sind to restrict themselves to monogamous marriages has emerged from the Select Committee in a mutilated condition. The original measure was itself halting and unsatisfactory since it was permissive of monogamy instead of being prohibitive of polygamy. Its main provision was that a Hindu of Sind might at the time of marriage be empowered to declare that he would not marry another wife during the life-time of his wife; and if such a declarant resorted to polygamy he would be liable to punishment. Such voluntary declaration is either superfluous or impracticable; for in case of monogamous husbands it is not necessary and those who have no strong convictions against polygamy will not make it. Indeed, no one will ever voluntarily pledge himself to anything which may make him liable to punishment in case of infringement. Besides all this, the Bill permitted polygamy in certain circumstances though the Select Committee has wisely deleted the exemptive clauses. Some Muslim members of the Council who suspect that a measure relating to the Hindus may somehow or other affect Muslims, want to make it clear that the Bill will not affect converts to Mahomedan religion and the Select Committee has accordingly altered clause 1 so as to make the Bill applicable to Hindus only so long as they are Hindus. The Muslim members should have welcomed a reform essential to elevate the womanhood and social condition of both the communities rather than treating is as a side-issue of conversion. One side has argued as though the preservation of the right to contract polygamy were the main consideration in conversion and the other as though conversion were a passport to polygamy. Probably the Bill will have to be dropped; the Select Committee's changes have destroyed whatever utility there was in it.

University Sports at Poona.

The announcement made by H. E. the Governor of Bombay, that his Government are considering a scheme of physical culture for the whole population of the Presidency, rural and urban, is a welcome one. When the scheme is actually launched, however, we trust Government will whole-heartedly enlist the co-operation of local organisations which have actively interested themselves in popularising sports. Especially in the case of our students who seem to neglect their physical training the more they partake of intellectual education, it is of the most urgent importance that private bodies, like the Poona Inter-Collegiate Sports Association, should be trusted and helped by the State to discharge a part of its own responsibility for the physical well-being of the people, which is the basis of all moral and intellectual progress. This Association, which was formed in 1921 by some professors of the colleges in Poona, has for its chief object the encouragement of sports and sportsmanship among the university students of the Presidency. During the five years of its existence it has made creditable progress, both in number and in quality. At present in the tournaments held under its auspices more than five hundred students of all the colleges in Poona take part in about forty different games which are watched by about three thousand students. The lady students also organise tournaments of their own and games like tug-of-war and tututu are played by them with the same enthusiasm as badminton and ping-pong.

Wanted Public Support.

The healthy rivalry among the competitors in a tournament, based upon mutual co-operation and toleration for the opponents' position, is the school where the future citizens of a democratic India will be trained with advantage. The wider and intenser the training so imparted, the greater the benefit to the individual competitor and society at large. The big Athletic Tournament held in Poona last month lacked little in enthusiasm and the keenness with which sportsmen from different colleges competed with one another was exemplary. But we regret that the efforts of the organisers to widen the scope of their activities by inviting sportsmen of the colleges in Bombay, Ahmedabad, Surat, and the Southern Maratha country to take a part in the annual tournament at Poona have met with an indifference which is wholly undeserved. A common sports meeting of the chosen sportsmen of all the colleges of the Presidency will be a boon of incalculable value and financial and local difficulties should not be allowed to stand in the way. So long as Bombay has not shown any promise of making really adequate provision for the physical training of its own university students, the annual tournaments held at Poona may with advantage be turned into a meeting-ground for the best university sportsmen in the Presidency. From what we have known and seen of the capacity and enthusiasm of the organisers at Poona, we have no doubt but that all minor difficulties in the way of sportsmen from different parts of the Presidency will be readily removed by them. It is the duty of the wealthy members of all communities in the Presidency to strengthen their hands, in dealing with the situation. The donation of rupees five hundred made by H. E. Sir Leslie Wilson towards the permanent fund of the Poona Inter-Collegiate Sports Association should be sufficient to rouse the enthusiasm and liberality of the Government and the public for the promotion of sports and sportsmanship among the rising generation of the Presidency in general and the University students in particular.

SOUTH AFRICA AND ITS REMEDY.

RETALIATION—BOYCOTT—SWARAJ.

INDIA'S LOST FAITH IN EMPIRE.

SELF-GOVERNMENT.

THE ONLY REMEDY.

DR. SAPRU ON RACE ARROGANCE

Shortly after the passing of the South Africa Act of 1909 by which the Union of South Africa was constituted by an Act of British Parliament, Mr. Briand who was Secretary to the Transvaal delegates at the South African National Convention wrote a small book on the Union of South Africa which gives us some insight into the working of the mind of the dominant class there. Dealing specially with the Kaffirs he observed as far back as 1909 as follows: "The future relations between races and their reaction one upon the other are obscure, but it is manifest that the white man, far from improving, can only maintain his position by demonstrating that, man for man, he is a better and more efficient instrument of labour than the Kaffir. Some competent observers believe he will do so; others, more pessimistic, predict the gradual submergence of the white population, or in the alternative the adoption of methods of repression leading to a war of extermination." The Bill which has been introduced in the South African Parliament by Dr. Malan is to my mind nothing short of such a war of extermination, but the extermination in view is not the extermination of the Kaffirs but of the Indians upon whose labour, skill and industry South Africa has built up to no small extent its prosperity. As regards the Kaffirs we shall of course be told as we were told at the time that the Kenya decision was given in 1923 by Mr. Baldwin's last Government that the British Government are the trustees of the population there. It is a curious position that so far as the native population in the Crown Colonies is concerned the British Government claim to be their trustees and in the exercise of their duties as trustees they feel called upon to impose certain restrictions and limitation upon Indians settled there to protect the interests of the "natives." As regards self-governing Dominions the British Government profess their inability to impose their will upon them for the protection of the Indian settlers there because a self-governing Dominion is like a master in his own house. The doctrine of "trusteeship" has thus no application to the case of Indians settled in self-governing Dominions. The position to my mind is absolutely intolerable and it betrays a conception of Empire and Imperialism fraught with the gravest dangers. To whom are Indians settled in South Africa to make an appeal? The South African Government will not listen to reason. Dr Malan says in his speech "I must say that the Bill frankly starts from the general supposition that the Indian, as a race in this country, is an alien element in the population, and that no solution of this question will be acceptable to the country unless it results in a very considerable reduction of the Indian population in this country." I believe it would be nearer the truth to say that the words "very considerable reduction" are an euphemism for extermination or expulsion. It is no use relying upon the Gandhi-Smuts agreement of 1914 for experience shows that there is no sanctity attaching to such agreements. The Indians cannot appeal to the British Government in England for it will not interfere with the affairs of a self-governing Dominion. As regards the Government of India I have no doubt of their sympathy, but I have considerable doubts as to their capacity to protect their nationals in South Africa. The South African Government know that the Government of India dare not do anything on their own account. The Government of India have approached, as Dr. Malan tells us, the South African Government for a "Round Table Conference" on the treatment of Indians in South Africa and I understand that negotiations are in progress. It is just possible that some sort of a compromise may be arrived at, but whether that compromise will lead to an effective protection of Indian rights or be consistent with their dignity as citizens of the Empire is a question on which I entertain very serious doubts. Measures of retaliation have been suggested. I myself suggested two years ago in a speech of mine at Poona retaliation in regard to South African coal and I read the other day in the newspapers that the question is now before the Tariff Board. I frankly confess that it will be no more than a gesture though even as gesture I should welcome it. The real position seems to me that so far as Indians abroad are concerned their position will never be one of equality and they will continue to be treated as they have hitherto been treated so long as India herself does not occupy the same position as Dominions and any measures that may be devised at the present moment can at best be measures of an ameliorative character. I sincerely hope and trust that the Government of India may succeed in bringing about a 'Round Table Conference' and that they will choose for their representative the right sort of men, but I should not expect too much from such a conference. Protest we must and I hope on this point there will will be no difference between one party and another, but then again it is a different question whether our protest will have any effect on the British Government in England

"UN-ENGLISH."

All conceivable constitutional steps have been taken at different times for the last twenty years, to get for the Indians residing in the South African Colonies treatment compatible with their honour and self-respect as citizens of the British Empire. Resolutions have been passed in public meetings, articles have been written in the public press and deputations have waited on high officials such as the Viceroy, the Secretary of State for India, the Secretary of State for the Colonies and others. But all these steps have gone in vain and Indians in South Africa are being treated as badly as ever with the result that this treatment has contributed to no small extent toward—

Shaking our faith in constitutional methods as a means for getting our grievances righted;

Causing the word "un-English" no longer to be applied to acts of injustice and unfairness and

Killing in the hearts of the present-day Indians that pride which our grandfathers felt in being citizens of the British Empire.

DINSHAW PETIT

ONLY OVER MORAL SUPPORT POSSIBLE.

To-day the whole country will register its protest against the Area Reservation and Immigration and Registration Bill commonly known as the Asiatic Bill which is now before the Union Parliament of South Africa. A more monstrous and inhuman piece of legislation has never disfigured the statute book of any civilized country. With a brutal frankness the minister of the South African Government admits that the Bill frankly starts from the general supposition that the Indian, as a race in that country, is an alien element and hence it is designed to operate entirely and wholly against Indians. He also admits that he expects that the effect of the Bill will be a very considerable reduction of the Indian population by making things so hot for them that they would be compelled to leave that country. The hollowness of the Empire theory is exposed in all its nakedness. The Indian Government may be willing to protect the honour of the Country, but its impotence is proved beyond question. We are too weak to render any assistance to the South African Indian Community in their hour of need. The success of their struggle must depend upon their capacity to suffer. In our present state we can only lend our moral support by the expression of our sympathy and pray for them.

VALLABBHAI J. PATEL.

FINANCIAL CONTROL ESSENTIAL.

In this world one (whether Individual or Nation) who controls effectively his own finances, is respected.

Economic supremacy in the world makes one a suzerain power without seeking and sometimes even without corporal fight.

All the troubles and the consequent humiliation of Indians inside and outside India, are, in my humble opinion, bound to continue so long as India allows her finances to be controlled by persons other than themselves.

My appeal to the Country, therefore, is that Indians should try and get, first of all, complete, full and real control of the finances of the Country as a first progressive step to any further Reforms.

Real control of one's finances only will elevate one's position both inside and outside the Empire.

It will then only that we will be respected.

LALJI NARANJI.

I cannot conceive that a self-governing India will be treated by any Dominion in the manner in which she is being treated at the present moment. There will then be moral forces in operation which must always be lacking so long as one part of the Empire can do anything it likes and another part can only protest.

There is further the possibility of the Crown exercising its supreme power of veto. The power is there, the statute gives it, but will the British Government dare advise the Crown to exercise that power? We have asked for it. We must press for it, but we cannot—at any rate I do not expect Mr Baldwin's Government to rise to this height. An injured and disgraced India must bear the injury and disgrace of her position in the Empire while a self-governing Dominion may assert its power as such. This is the irony of the situation, and this the interpretation of the doctrine of the allegiance of the subject and the corresponding duty of the Crown to protect its subjects.

T. B. SAPRU.

PRAYER FOR CONFLAGRATION OF SORROW AND INDIGNATION.

TO CONSUME DISHONOUR AND DEATH ABROAD.

The All-India Congress Committee at its recent session at Patna adopted the following resolution with reference to the critical situation with which our countrymen in South Africa are now confronted:

"The All-India Congress Committee expresses its deep sympathy with the Indian settlers in South Africa in their troubles and assures them of all the support that it is within the power of the Congress to give them to maintain their position and self-respect in South Africa. In the opinion of the All-India Congress Committee India should not become a party to any scheme of repatriation whether described as voluntary or compulsory. The Congress is further of opinion that the Bill proposed to be passed by the Union Parliament is manifestly in breach of the settlement of 1914. The A. I. C. C. suggests to the Congress organisations to call public meetings of all parties on the eleventh day of October 1925 to protest against the treatment meted out to the Indian settlers in South Africa."

In response to this call public meetings will be held in all parts of the country to-morrow to protest against the treatment meted out to Indian settlers in the South African Union and prayers will be offered in all places of worship. We publish below the messages received from leading Indian publicists suggesting remedies for the wrongs of our unhappy and sore-pressed countrymen overseas.

THE POET'S PRAYER

I pray that the wrongs of her suffering children across the seas will kindle in the heart of India so vast and terrible a conflagration of sorrow and indignation as shall utterly destroy in its consuming flame the evil that broods over them with the menace of dishonour and death.

SAROJINI NAIDU.

LOVE THE SOLVENT.

The treatment meted out to the Indians in South Africa should make them conscious of their responsibility to the original inhabitants of the country. Let them keep clear of the provocation to inflict injury on their neighbours for the sake of their own self-interest. I am afraid more of this moral malady which very often we catch from those who have the power to deprive us of our rights; and, on our turn we show readiness to elbow out the helpless from their possession when opportunity favours ourselves. This evil I consider as more regrettable than any loss of material advantage or of political privileges. Let the Indians win the heart of the Africans through their spirit of sacrifice and co-operation and only then they will have their true right of sharing the resources of the country by the glad consent of those who are the legitimate owners. The permission given by the intruders to intrude does not confer on us the moral justification for doing so; we must do our best to gain invitation as friends from the host himself.

Santiniketan, Oct. 2, 1925 RABINDRANATH TAGORE

WE MUST SET AN EXAMPLE.

You have asked me to send you a message for the 11th of October for the "South African Day." I cannot refuse this message to the "Chronicle", the one paper above all which has stood unflinchingly for the forward movement in this country. I need not remind you that circumstances have forced me to declare myself to-day an outlaw in my own country. What burning things I feel in my heart when I see humiliations upon humiliations heaped upon us both in India itself and in South Africa, East Africa, Fiji and elsewhere! Patience and fortitude are wonderful virtues and we have to stock a very large amount of them to keep us from getting mad and doing mad things to remedy the existing conditions that trouble us here and dog our steps wherever we may go. I cannot write what I feel inclined to suggest as probably in the interest of the "Chronicle" you will not be able to publish it; and, I have no desire to get a name of one who talks of big, brave things and can do next to nothing. What advice can I give to our poor humiliated brethren in South Africa? We in India must set an example of brave sufferings and supreme sacrifices, so that our brethren in far off lands may feel proud of us and do likewise. All these different labels of constitutional agitationists mean nothing, if there is no strength behind the resolutions and protests. I am fed up with this Government and have no desire to have anything to do with them. They are hopeless and I expect nothing from them. For God's sake let us sink our petty differences and combine for a strong push forward. The whole thing seems to me to be so simple: It is only a question of making up one's mind once for all and freedom is there right, close in front of us.

SHAUKAT ALI.

NO PROTECTION FROM CROWN.

Those who followed the answers given on behalf of the Government of India in the Assembly last September must have concluded clearly that neither the Government of India nor His Majesty's Government are able to protect and safeguard the elementary rights of His Majesty's Indian subjects in South Africa. So long as India is a dependency, we are helpless. I only wish that both the Imperial and the Indian Governments will honestly declare that they cannot protect the Indian even within the British Empire. In that case at any rate they will be acquitted of the charge of deluding the Indians in South Africa and also the people of this country. I have always understood that the subjects owe allegiance to the King-Emperor in return for a guarantee that their life and property will be safeguarded and protected by the Crown, but in this case there is neither protection nor safeguard of the elementary right of the Indian in South Africa.

M. A. JINNAH.

"TRUST IN GOD."

The systematic and persistent persecution of Indians in South Africa is one of the most humiliating symptoms of the dependent position of India. The denial now of the very elementary rights of citizenship to Indians who were taken under Government schemes to certain parts of the Empire decades back is a sad reflection on the British Commonwealth. Should the Union Government not perceive the unparalleled injustice of their policy, India ever so weak and helpless will not fail to vindicate her self-respect and rights of her children whenever opportunity for same is available. In the meantime the only message, that anyone conscious of the inherent weakness of India's position at present, can suggest, is, "Trust in God and rely on the righteousness of our cause." It is a sore trial for our fellow-brethren in Africa, but I trust that they will endure in certain faith that ultimately right must prevail over force. I would however venture to suggest that Indians in Africa should act in unfailing unity and unceasing concert to help India to vindicate the cause of her sons abroad at first opportunity.

PURSHOTTAMDAS THAKOREDAS.

THE PRICE OF NATIONAL SERFDOM.

What can I say about the South African problem except what every other correspondent must write and repeat, viz., that Dishonour abroad is a necessary evil of national serfdom. The price we must pay for easy and comfortable domestic life and indifference to the calls of national duty is dishonour at home and dishonour abroad. The remedy for pariahdom in the world is to make ourselves a free nation at home. There is no good crying over individual symptoms. So long as we do not realise the supreme need for national freedom, or give a second or third place to it, we shall fight among ourselves or play with politics. To be honest we should give no hopes to our brothers and sisters abroad. On the other hand, we should tell them that all their and our resources should be placed at the disposal of our national leaders for the liberation of India which alone can solve the colonial problems.

C. RAJGOPALACHAR.

Gandhi Ashram,

CONCERTED ACTION NECESSARY.

The New South African legislation will, in effect, involve compulsory repatriation of our countrymen in South Africa, most of whom were born in that country. The country belongs as much to them as to Englishmen, Dutchmen and others who have come from outside and are not natives of the place. Our countrymen should have all the rights enjoyed by British subjects of the Dominion under the present constitution.

So much has been said about the injustice done to our country-men in South Africa and so little attention has been paid to our protests and Government of India's representations that one feels despondent as regards the future. The problem before us is to find out the best way of helping our countrymen. Even if the Government of India adopted as strong an attitude as was adopted by Lord Hardinge, there would hardly be any possibility of South African Government heeding such protests at the present juncture. It is for the leaders of political thought in the country seriously to consider this question and find out a solution so that our countrymen get justice at the hands of the S. A. Government. Collective thinking and concerted action is necessary if real assistance is to be rendered to our brethern overseas.

NEEDED—A SELF-RESPECTING INDIA

"There can be no British Commonwealth without a common British citizenship. Without the uniting link of common citizenship the centrifugal forces must come into play. The Boers in South Africa have introduced a disintegrating element in the hope that some day some New Zealander will depict ruins of the British Commonwealth. The self-respecting attitude of the sons of India is the only factor arresting the disruptive tendencies of the Boer element, and making for consolidation and co-operation. Unfortunately the slow-witted Saxon cannot see this clearly at present, but the cataract slowly but surely melting away for British statesmen have began to perceive that the British people with their abnormal industrial development cannot dispense with the goodwill of the people of India as they depend so much on India for the raw material, for their factories, and on the Indian market for their goods and finished products."

JOSEPH BAPTISTA.

THE COLOUR BAR.

PROTEST OF NATAL INDIAN CONGRESS.

SOUTH AFRICAN EUROPEANS' SYMPATHY.

The Town Hall of Durban was crowded on Aug. 31, when a meeting of Indians was held under the auspices of Natal Indian Congress to protest against the Asiatic Bill. Mr. Amod Bayat who presided, was supported by many Indians, and a number of Europeans, included amongst whom were Mr. F. A. Laughton, K.C., and the Rev. A. Lamont, M.A., B.D.

Archdeacon M. O. Hodson, M.A., wrote expressing his regret that an attack of Influenza kept him in bed that night, and stating that there were many Europeans in the community who felt that the Indians were not being treated right. This was only one of many messages of support and interest in the proceedings received from various official bodies and private individuals, including one from Mr. Gandhi.

In the course of his presidential address which was read by Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee, Mr. Bayat said:—

It is a matter for great concern to us that a responsible Minister of the Government has deemed it proper to refer to us as aliens and he said so because there were many characteristics in which we differ from members of his race. For this reason he states that the Bill under consideration is necessary. His argument is both illogical and contradictory because he exempts the Mauritian Creoles St. Helenas, the Cape Coloureds, the Cape Malays and the Natives of S. Africa from the provision of this very bill. We do not grudge these people their proud position, on the contrary we heartily congratulate them for being fortunate to be exempted from the operation of this Bill. Undoubtedly the Bill is designed to operate entirely and wholly against us as Indians and this is even openly admitted by the Minister of the Interior.

The policy of racial segregation is retrogressive and detrimental to the progress of human beings. It restricts the liberty and freedom of the class of persons and does not make for the development to the highest degree. The class of persons segregated become by restriction and inattention demoralised feeling that because one class is in power, it imposes its will for its own benefit to the subjection of another class. It creates conditions that make for the herding of human beings with undesirable consequences of greater impoverishment insanitation, ill-health and over-population.

GOVERNMENT'S BREACH OF FAITH.

The Bill interferes with private property. Indians are being deprived and are restricted directly or indirectly of their existing inherent rights as British subjects, and also in breach assurances and undertaking given from time to time by the Government in S. Africa, that Indians lawfully resident in the country will be fairly and sympathetically treated and the existing rights safeguarded, and this also was the understanding between Mr. Gandhi and General Smuts in 1914. The Immigration Provisions are alarming. At the present the Indian who outstays for a period of three years upon entering the port is required to prove his domicile notwithstanding he may already then actually have his certificate of domicile. He is declared a prohibited immigrant and upon payment of a sum of money which by practice £31 (thirty-one pounds stg.), is found sufficient to cover and as up till now accepted, he is allowed to procure the necessary evidence and prove his domicile..... Experience has shown that even this amount was not always easily obtained and our community is unaware of any Indians forfeiting this deposit and absconding and remaining in the country; the community therefore sees no reason for the Immigration Officer being empowered to make the deposit anything up to £100 (one-hundred pounds stg.) as this Bill provides for.

All Indians absent from the Union on the 1st of August 1925 will have to return to the Union before 31st July 1928 and after 1930 no Indian will be able to proceed to India to bring his wife or children. If this is not interfering with common law rights and personal freedom, I do not know what is? As to domicile, Indians including those born in the Union by their mere absence from the Union for a more than three years at a time lose their domicile. This appears to be in conflict with all known laws as regards domicile because this Bill takes away and does not give effect to a man's legal intention as to his own domicile. This also takes away the present established right preserved to an Indian by virtue of his certificate of domicile. What is to be done with the South african born Indian who absents himself for more than three years and thus lose his domicile? Where is he to go?

We are British Indians and we have earned a name by being law-abiding but no one can question our right to quarrel against unjust laws. As British subjects we have the right to claim protection from the Governor-General as representing the King Emperor and we intend to leave no stone unturned in the matter. We are told that the Union Government is in communication with the Union Government and we sincerely hope that the proposal of a Round

RETALIATE.

A foreign domination necessariy means a certain amount of humiliation, injustice and inequity on a subject race. But in no other matter is the pang and gall of that foreign domination felt so bitterly and cruelly in India, as in her utter helpnessness and incapacity to rescue her countrymen from the humiliation and the barbarous treatment meted out to them in distant parts of the British Empire. For years past the Colonial Indians have been clamouring for help. The widowed Mother "Ind" with all her desire, inclination and love, is still unable to do anything for these distant orphan children.

Indians have settled down in various and distant parts of the world in fairly large numbers; Japan, America, China, Germany, Portuguese territories and France, all these countries and their colonies have a number of Indian settlers, who have long made these countries their homes. In no part of the world have we heard of a British-Indian subject being singled out for such humiliation and cruel treatment as in the British Colonies.

There is no doubt that the British-Indian subjects were far more happy and comfortable in German and French Colonies of East Arica than in the British Colonies of South Africa to-day. Still we hear of such brazen-faced hypocritic declarations as the "Benefits" of tc "Benign" British Empire, and the "Privileges" of British Citizenship. So far as the Indian subjects are concerned the Empire is neither Benign nor British and the only "privilege" they enjoy is to be hunted like hounds abroad and treated like dogs at home.

The absurdity has reached a limit when burly Indian Maharaja journeys all the way to Geneva to 'represent' India in the League of Nations and almost simultaneously in another part of the British Empire, a British Minister describes British Indian subjects as "Aliens" and acts in the name of "The King's Most Excellent Majesty" the Senate and the House of Assembly of the Union of South Africa, a Bill, "to make provision for the reservation of areas, the sure result of which will be to drive the Indians from the Colonies, by slow tortuous methods. It would be more honourable and honest to hurl them out by one stroke of physical force, than to resort to such cowardly, dishonest and unmanly methods to compel them to leave, by making it impossible for any honourable and selfrespecting Indian to stay there.

If India was self-governing and mistress of her home, she would have given a fitting, and an effective reply to this national Outrage and Insult." She would have accepted the challenge by arranging that not an inch or an ounce of South-African product, either human or material, would have found place or quarters in this vast land and we would have treated the Colonial settlers in this country with the same hot hospitality, with which they treat our countrymen there. As it is, the game is not fairly played; the Colonials, on the one side, being masters of the situation there, carry on their barbarous methods, unhampered and uncontrolled, "even by the Mother country, whereas we, hopeless Indians, impotent, because subject to foreign rule, go on our bended knees, supplicating and praying and still trusting and hoping that the South African Satan will some day become a God and dole out Justice and Equity to our brethern there.

Retaliation, on however a small scale, under the present circumstances, seems to be the only effective remedy, as all other meek and docile methods of deputations, petitions and representations to an unwilling or incapable Viceroy seem to be absolutely futile and fruitless.

KHURSHED F. NARIMAN,

BETRAYED.

The position of Indians in South Africa is becoming hopelessly worse from day to day. In fact it is desperate and that in spite of the many loud professions and promises that there is, and must always be perfect equality amongst all different component parts of the great British Empire. The mighty and benign British Government could do a lot if only they were in earnest about it but they cannot be, for blood is thicker than water and they will not antagonise the white races in South Africa. Again the fact cannot be ignored that amongst the white races there, the majority consists of the Dutch who though at present under the British flag would seize the opportunity of severing their connection if Great Britain dared to do anything whereby the lot of the Indian in South Africa could be made to improve. The attitude of the Home Government or perhaps its impotence is bound to have far-reaching effects which will not fail in the long run to lower the morale and the prestige of the British Empire. The British say that they are in the position of trustees for the masses in India. The Indians in South Africa form a part of these masses of the Indian poor. Are the British proud of their so-called trusteeship of these Indians?

Retaliation is the cry of the day, but situated as we are I cannot but admit that any retaliative measures that we might adopt might, like a boomerang, recoil on ourselves. I say "might" advisedly, for it is one thing for the Legislature to pass resolutions—no matter with however large a majority, and quite a different matter for Government to give effect to such resolutions. If we did enjoy full self-governing status it would be a different story altogether and in that event South Africa would certainly desist from taking the steps it has been taking for the last few years to drive out the mild and peaceful Indian from a territory where he has as much right to live and earn a living as the white people themselves. The South African Government know full well that for reasons stated above, the British Government dare not take any drastic steps and they know equally well that the Government of India constituted as it is, can do nothing without the help and the intervention of the Home Government and consequently they pass such objectionable laws as they do with perfect impunity.

PHIROZE C. SETHNA.

"ACHIVE SWARAJ"

The cry of our brethren overseas has always been a cry of poignancy and despair and the heart of Mother India has always been lacerated by it, as a mother's heart always feels more for children who are separated from her by thousands of miles. These brethren of ours have been pioneer colonials and would have founded a Greater India in South Africa and elsewhere but for the fact that a land herself in bondage cannot have any colonies outside. Many of them went as pioneers to distant lands to push on their trade, others went as labourers as British Colonies were in want of labour. Whether they went as labourers or as traders or as professional men, as in a few cases they did, they all did so with a simple and childlike faith in the British Empire, forgetting that the Empire is a White Empire and a commercial Empire. It would save much heart-burning and reams and reams of paper and other stationery if it is once recognised that the British Empire is not going to do anything for Indian emigrants to colonies, nor even would it be in a position to do anything even if there was the will to do anything. The Government of India are a merely subordinate branch of the British Government and so if the latter cannot do anything it necessarily follows that the former also cannot achieve anything. A self-governing India, however, whenever such a time comes, will be able to protect her nationals as Japan is able to do for instance even now. The only way, therefore, to relieve the sufferings of our brethren in the Colonies is to achieve Swaraj for ourselves. This does not mean that we should leave off the fight for Indians in the Colonies. It only means that both our brethren in the Colonies and ourselves should not lose heart at any apparent want of success in our efforts and should struggle unceasingly for Self-Government for this country. There is also another thing Indian people can do for their brethren outside, which is to eliminate the curse of untouchability from their midst as the righting of this great wrong will serve, through inscrutable ways of Providence, in lessening the vicarious sacrifice Indians in Colonies have to make in expiation of sins of their ancestors and their contemporaries in India in the matter of treatment of so-called untouchables.

J. K. MEHTA.

RETALIATION THE ONLY REMEDY.

It is necessary that Indian public opinion should clarify itself on the South African question. There are many amongst us who have lost all faith in platform denunciations and outbursts in the Press, and yet we go on recording protest after protest. There are others who ridicule the endless negotiations which are going on between the Government of India and the South African Government, and yet allow themselves to be deluded into thinking that something may turn up after all as a result of this battle of Despatches. Then there is the class of militant politicians who see no hope of India being able to assert herself abroad until she is master in her own household, and who at the same time are unwilling to give up all agitation. Between these conflicting views and methods it is necessary for us to understand clearly where we stand, and direct our energies to the one course which is calculated to vindicate our self-respect and afford a striking demonstration of our determination to resent with all our power the humiliation to which we are being subjected in the colonies and dominions of the Empire. That one course is retaliation. Superior critics may laugh at its futility and solemnly question its wisdom. We have had enough of logic and statesmanship however, and badly need doing something. It may be our blows may prove ineffectual, but we are not out to "stagger humanity". What we want to do is to demonstrate our determination to retaliate both as affording a measure of our indignation and as a foretaste of what will follow when India achieves for herself a position in the councils of the world, which will make attacks on her honour a somewhat dangerous proceeding for those who attempt them. After all, what do we stand to lose? The more we protest and the more we negotiate the more grievous become our wrongs. The colonies proceed to heap insolence on injury, and injustice follows injustice until the very existence of the Indian community is threatened in the colonies dominated by the spirit of South Africa. In these circumstances, does it avail us one bit to shriek from pulpit and platform, and indite ponderous despatches? We might as well preach vegetarianism to a cannibal. No; the position must be squarely faced. We must realise that we shall continue to be oppressed so long as we continue to be helpless, and the only logical and manly course left for us is to retaliate with all our strength—with all our weakness, if you like—but with a firm resolve to demonstrate that the India of to-morrow will have no room nor tolerance for those who have none for her.

H. P. MODY.

"BOYCOTT BRITISH GOODS".

Work is worship and action is prayer. So our prayer should consist in waking up and acting. Mahatma Gandhi has but one specific, viz., Charka—I too have but one and it is boycott, boycott of British goods. All our ills start with our connection with them and less we have to do with them, better for our body and soul.

LAKHMIDAS ROWJEE TAIRSEE.

THE CHALLENGE.

The Asiatic Bill introduced by the Dutch element in the African Government starts from the general supposition that the Indian in South Africa is an alien element in the population. It is more or less a vindictive measure against the British Empire as well as against the Indian community which was instrumental in fighting against the Dutch successfully and bringing the British in South Africa. It is a direct challenge to India's position of equality in the Commonwealth. India must accept the challenge and must show to the Dutch element in the South African Government that she would not allow herself to be trifled with in such an undignified manner.

HOOSEINBHOY A. LALLJEE,
M. L. C.

IMPORTANCE OO CONSTITUTIONAL AGITATION

The promulgation of the South African Colour Bar Bill is another of the most objectionable pieces of Legislature which have been passed from time to time in order to make the life of Indians most miserable in that country, where they have lived and toiled for the last fifty years and have made South Africa what it is to-day. The whole economic foundation of that country depends upon Indian labour and still the repatriation of Indians is carried on relentlessly. Mr. Vaze in an article about the treatment of the Indians in South Africa says that an Indian Christian, who was highly educated and refined British subject wanted to marry a Scotch lady. "Almost all the clergy representatives of the various Christian churches in South Africa refused to marry them on racial grounds;" says Mr. Vaze, "what really made Rev. J. D. Orr to change his mind and revise his opinion and marry them in his church was that the lady threatened to turn a Muslim and be married under Asiatic rights." This sort of treatment meted out to our fellow-countrymen in South Africa really is a source of constant irritation and humiliation to India, and the perpetuation of the grievances in spite of the most vigorous condemnation in this country, is a most striking proof of the lack of a sense of justice on the part of the British Government. I challenge the right of the African Government to put the stain of inferiority on British Indian subjects or place them on a lower status than that bestowed on the commonest foreigners. The denial of equal rights of citizenship to our countrymen overseas and the wilful neglect of the British Government to pay any heed to the unanimous voice of united India clearly demonstrates the impotence of constitutional agitation in securing political rights.

MD. YAKUB, M. L. A.

Moradabad, Oct. 5.

A SHORT-SIGHTED POLICY.

I do not see any prospect of early solution of the Indian problem in South Africa. The collapse of non-violent non-cooperation movement has not only made Swaraj in India a remote possibility, but has also made the position of our countrymen abroad from bad to worse.

I can understand, and to a certain extent sympathise with, countries like Australia and New Zealand, that have homogenous population, desiring to build up a pure nationality free from foreign admixture. I can even include in this category Canada, where British element in the population predominates over the French. These are however, new-found lands and the nations who have, after exterminating the natives, peopled and developed the countries and made them characteristically their own, can, with some vestige of truth, claim to have the right to preserve the purity of their race and nationality by stopping immigration They may also have special objection to Indians who, wherever they go, do not allow themselves to be assimilated by the people of the land, but settle there as a distinct community, maintaining its own civilization and standard of life.

But no such considerations can prevail in any part of Africa. Africa was not discovered like America or Australia by Europeans. It has a vast native population which would not be exterminated in spite of all the direct and indirect methods employed by the White settlers to that end. Some day, notwithstanding the culpable neglect of their education, the natives, by the grace of God, will be in a position to assert themselves and come into their heritage. That evil day the White settlers can indefinitely put off if there was not a third (Brown) party to interfere and to take sides with the Blacks.

In South Africa the White settlers themselves are not homogenous people. They are mostly Dutch and English who speak different languages and profess different religions. In the future Commonwealth of British Nations, South Africa can have no place as a British Nation. As a nation she is destined to be a hybrid one even if Indian and African element is entirely eliminated from her constitution.

South African statesmen appear to be very shortsighted and narrow in their outlook, otherwise they would recognise the peculiar composition of the nationality that they are trying to construct. Surely thus statesmanship, if freed from colour prejudice, could be equal to the task of building a constitution in which not only the sons of the soil, the Dutch and the English, but also Hindus, and Muslims of India, Persia and Arabia could find their place on terms or perfect equality. Alas! No display of such superior wisdom can, at present, be expected in that quarter.

I am, therefore, sorry, Mr. Editor, I have no message of hope to convey to your readers on the day of universal demonstration in India. The Parliement in South Africa is bent upon making the life of Indians unbearable in that country; the Tory Government in the seat of the Empire, that is resolved to keep Indians out of their heritage in India herself as long as possible, is in no hurry to use its good offices in their behalf elsewhere; as regards the Government of India it is as pitiably impotent and helpless as any subordinate Government is bound to be. God alone may help when he wills, for we have lost all faith in human agency to better our lot at home and abroad.

YAKUB HASAN

Madras, Oct. 6.

6. As already said in my reply to Question No. 4, there is no leader of any personality or eminence, just at present who can attract to himself the confidence of the people as Mahatma Gandhi had been able to do previous to the Bardoli fiasco and it will be suicidal folly even to think of such ultra constitutional agitation as non-payment of taxes, in the absence of such a leader. Besides we have to have to unlearn many things which have been taught to us during the last 4 or 5 years, before we can be fit for undertaking such an enterprise.

Situated as we are at present let us make up our mind to recognise that, if we are not heading off for another Himalayan mistake, there is no other programme than that of Responsive co-operation with or without accepting ministerships as the situation for the time being may demand.

7. As for the Swadeshi movement I and my whole household, except perhaps quite occasionally when other than British cloth was used, have never gone in for foreign cloth but I am, on principle, opposed to the boycott of foreign cloth, so far as it relates to cloths of countries other than England and its Dominions. I am whole-heartedly for Swadeshi and for manufacturing of all varieties of cloth and wholesale resort to various mechanical appliances imported from Europe; so that we may never feel the need of buying foreign cloth and I am also for boycott of British goods.

8. I am not for accepting ministerships just at present as a protest against the reactionary and unconstitutional act of the Government in suspending the Reforms in Bengal in defiance of the noble gesture made at Faridpur by the late Deshbandhu Das for establishing an era of co-operation and good will.

9. I am at a loss to suggest what should be done to avenge the attitude already shown by Lord Birkenhead and most likely to be further developed in the statement that his Lordship will shortly make in Parliament but refusal of supplies is no good if not supported by Mass Civil Disobedience throughout India.

Lord Birkenhead has thought it fit at this stage to remind us of the sharp edge of the British sword as being the foundation of the British power in India. We have therefore to infer that he as a representative of the British power in India gives us to understand that no real power will be yielded unless forced at the point of the Indian Sword. Can India accept the challenge?

10. It is no use throwing a challenge unless there be a leader to follow it up to a finish one way or the other unless we mean to involve ourselves again in ridicule and humiliation as we once did at Bardoli.

11. So far as my Province is concerned, people seem to have no faith in spinning and I do not think hand spinning will ever make any headway. Swarajists have no faith that hand spinning will in any way bring Swaraj nearer or help materially in accomplishing the boycott of foreign cloth in proportion to the time and energy required for popularizing it—if it can ever be popularised.

As for Hindu-Muslim Unity our experience has been that love and non-violence do not appeal to the Mohamedans. We have been able to compose our differences when both sides found from actual and bitter experience that Hindus can not be dominated into submission by Mohamedans resorting to physical force.

Swarajists are doing their best in their own way to secure sound and safe foundation for Hindu-Muslim Unity in this Province.

As for removal of untouchability we are hopefully doing our utmost.

12. As regards bringing about unity amongst the different parties that are still in the Congress and these that have seceded of late from it, the kind of work that, I think it is possible to do in the near future, is not such as to make combination and united action impossible, inspite of differences in mental attitude and political methods. We must take care to act towards each other both as parties and individuals in such a way that when the time for taking a more drastic action comes, the Liberals and the Independents may at least remain well affected towards us if they shall not be able to actually join hands with us.

B. S. MUNJE.

UNDER ONE FLAG.

"MAHATMA JUDGED AND FOUND WANTING"!

RESPONSIVE CO-OPERATION--ONLY POLICY.

DR. MUNJE'S REPLIES TO "CHRONICLE" QUESTIONNAIRE.

We publish below the replies of Mr. B. S. Munje, M.L.C., to the questionnaire addressed by us to prominent men and women of all parties with a view to focus public opinion on the question of re-union of all parties under the Flag of the Congress:—

QUESTIONS.

(1) Do you think that the Congress creed should be changed for your being its member? If you think change is essential will you define the creed acceptable to yourself?

(2) If there is an annual money contribution as well as the yarn quota in the alternative, as the franchise qualification, will it be acceptable to you?

(3) If the Congress revokes the yarn franchise and, instead of delegating to the Swarajists the power to determine political work in the legislatures, frames a political programme of its own, including work in the Councils, will you co-operate in carrying it out?

(4) What, in your opinion, should the Congress programme, inside as well as outside the Councils, be?

(5) Do you think by constitutional agitation alone the British people will be persuaded to give us Home Rule?

(6) If ultra-constitutional agitation is essential, what form or forms of direct action will you suggest and will you recommend to the Congress the contesting of elections to the legislatures on the issue of non-payment of taxes?

(7) Are you prepared personally to give up the use of foreign cloth. If you are still using it, will you help the Swadeshi movement by giving it up?

(8) If you are elected an M.L.C., in your province, will you, under the present circumstances, accept a Ministership?

(9) If the Reading-Birkenhead negotiations are disappointing to you, what course will you advise the public to take in addition to vigorous vocal protest and will you support the programme of persistent refusal of supplies before redress of grievances?

(10) If the essential provisions of the Commonwealth of India Bill are satisfactory to you, will you, in the event of its non-acceptance by Parliament before October 1926, recommend to the Congress the contesting of elections to the legislatures on the issue of non-payment of taxes?

(11) Do you think the Swarajists are actively working in the country in furtherance of the constructive programme?

(12) Do you think the differences in the mental attitudes and political methods of Congressmen on the one hand and the Independents or Liberals on the other are too vital to be harmonised by mutual adjustments and so make united action on their part possible?

DR. MUNJE'S REPLIES.

(1) There is no need to change the creed of the Congress for seceders from the Congress such as Liberals, Moderates etc. to become its members again, so far as that change may concern the word "Swarajya". The word "Swarajya" is all comprehensive, including as it does ideas ranging from complete Independence to self-Government of Dominion Status. Thus all can be members of the Congress working within its fold for the realization of their particular ideas connoting "Swarajya." z

For the same reason, however, if any change at all be contemplated, I would like to omit the word "peaceful" and merely say "by all legitimate means."

2. I am entirely opposed to making spinning the franchise of the Congress; for it is intended to induce and it really does induce a mentality of humility and meekness. I want to cultivate, on the other hand aggressiveness in the proverbially mild Hindu to be a fit companion to a Mohamedan. Besides, this spinning franchise entails humiliation and ridicule on the premier political organisation of the country, the Indian National Congress, in the eyes of the warlike and independent Nations of the world; by whose side India aspires to stand with equal dignity and status to assume its due responsibilities in the moulding of the destinies of the world, along with them. There are several other objections also which I need not mention here.

Annual money contribution must be the only franchise, as it has been so long. I may suggest Rs. six as yearly fee for membership of the Congress.

3. Time has come for the Congress to again assume the helm of all political activities in the Country, which it had begun to relinquish since the time the special Congress Session was held at Calcutta in 1920. This process of relinquishment was completed at Bardoli which itself, however, provoked the people to rebel against the Congress, though in a spirit of loyalty and good will.

4. The Congress has been brought by forced marches to a stage in Politics where, speaking truthfully, the next step is that of Revolution, violent or non-violent. For the violent variety there are no resources available neither any leader to initiate it; for the non-violent variety also i.e. mass civil disobedience, there is no Leader to intiate it, though the people are prepared for it, as far as it can ever be possible in the near future in India composed and situated as it is, Mahatma Gandhi was believed at one time to be the leader par excellence for initiating Mass Civil Disobedience but he was judged at Bardoli and found wanting. Under the circumstances there is no policy other than that of what is known as Responsive co-operation which is blessed with the political sagacity of no less a man than Lokmanya Tilak. The Hindus however have much solid work to do, so far as their social consolidation and rehauling of their present Social system is concerned, to enable themselves as a community to stand shoulder to shoulder with their brother community of Mohamedans when the time for trying final conclusions with the Government arrives.

The Congress programme outside the Councils must preeminently be the work of village organisation with a view generally to improve their physique by organising Rural sports and Gymnasiums and indigenous arts of self-defence such as Lathi plays Sword plays etc., and particularly to training young men between the ages of 16 to 45 in Infantry Drilling and shooting Besides, general propaganda work has to be carried on for preparing the people eventually for Mass Civil disobedience and non-payment of taxes.

5. No, emphatically no; the British Government will never be persuaded to give us Home Rule purely by what is generally understood as constitutional agitation which has its own limitations. This is exactly what Mahatma Gandhi and other Leaders of late failed to understand and take note of, by ruling out violence, on the one hand, as immoral and irreligious and on the other hand, by needlessly demonstrating the impracticability of mass Civil Disobedience. What is there left in us, under the present circumstances to compell the Government to take up seriously and to have respect and awe for us and for our resolutions and aspiration? The fact is, in short that we have not been playing Politics since the demise of the Great Lokmanya; we have been soaring high in what is described as spirituality.

A QUIET PAY-DAY.

OPERATIVES DECLINE TO RECEIVE WAGES

ANONYMOUS LEAFLETS.

The mill area presented a lively appearance on Friday. Since about 7 a.m. groups of operatives, two to three hundred strong, collected near their mill gates and after waiting for some time went away. Others took their places and the day passed off in this manner. At every mill from Dadar, to Sopari Baug, Parel, and from Purbhadevi to Fergusson Road, DeLisle Road, Jacob Circle and Tardeo, the same scenes were witnessed. The operatives would collect, talk with the managers or other officials of the mills with regard to their pay and question them whether they would be paid advances or full pay and on the latter giving replies in the negative they would go away. At the Tata Mill (Dadar) about a hundred operatives collected and asked for advances and when they were told that that they could take their wages in full at reduced rates for the month of September they dispersed. At the Shapurji Broacha Mill about 200 operatives collected and told the management that they wanted to go to work if they were paid their wages without any reduction, but they would neither receive any wages at the reduced scale nor go to work until their original standard of wages was restored. The same spectacle was seen at the Western India, Jacob Sassoon and Morarji Goculdas Mills, where batches of operatives numbering 200 to 300 collected and requested the management to pay them some advances, but this being refused the men dispersed. At the Jacob Circle and Tardeo some operatives came near their mills, but would not go in to receive their wages. The only mill where some operatives actually took their wages for September was the Kasturchand Mill situate near Dadar station, where about fifty operatives (both weavers and spinners) went in and received their pay and quietly went away without seeing their colleagues.

Notices, both signed and anonymous, were widely circulated in the mill area exhorting the workmen not to receive their pay for September. In a notice printed in Urdu and Gujarati the workmen were told not to receive wages until the question of the reduction was decided. They were reminded that at the last strike the workmen received their pay and lost their bonus and if they did this time they would forfeit the 11½ per cent. off their pay. The operatives were, therefore, told not to receive the pay lest the question be decided against them. This notice was signed by five persons, viz., (1) Mohmed Ibrahim, (2) Abdul Rahim, (3) Abdul Rehman Khidan, (4) Jumaukhan, and (5) Mohmed Nasir.

The operatives, however, everywhere were very peaceful and the police too were quiet, undemonstrative and unmeddling and allowed the workmen full latitude to collect in a large number and to talk among themselves in a peaceful manner.

Some mills anticipating the operatives' attitude did not take the trouble to bring in money for the payment of wages, but offered the operatives only tickets when they came in the morning and told them to call the following day for their dues. A few mills, on the other hand, had neither pay tickets prepared nor cash ready for payment and told their operatives to call on the following day for the tickets as the latter were not ready.

MILL WORKERS' DEPUTATION.

WAITS ON GOVERNOR ON MONDAY.

The deputation of the mill-workers would wait upon H. E. the Governor at Poona on Monday noon and the Governor's reply is awaited with great interest by the mill operatives as well as the mill-owners.

YARN MARKET AFFECTED.

The mill strike has brought about a good demand for all kinds of Indian yarns and prices have gone up by about ½ an anna per lb. in general. In those qualities where the stocks are few and good demand is expected in the near future, prices have advanced by about ¾ of an anna per lb and large purchases both speculative and real are in evidence. This has been the case in coarse yarns such as Nos. 2s, 3s, 4s, 6s, 8s, 2/6s and 2/10s where prices have undergone a rapid advance and the dealers have been buying heavily in anticipation of placing them through in the coming cold season when these counts generally meet with good demand. The stocks of these yarns with the mills are very small and during the last two weeks there was a good offtake from Calcutta and Karachi Markets and as a result even the dealers have got only a few bales to offer. In case of counts over 10s such as 12½s, 14½s and 16½s demand in moderate and as the Mills have got about 5,000 bales of these counts to offer the improvement has been slow. In case of fine counts such as 20s, 24s, 30s, 32s etc., the improvement is very slow on account of Japanese and Manchester competition as well as on account of slack demand for these yarns.

There is a good inquiry from China Markets for several well-known tickets in 10s and 12s for ready delivery and prices offered are in many cases about ½ an anna higher than their last purchases but as the Mills have got no stocks they are unable to meet them. The Japanese have been steady sellers of all their yarns and there has been an increased buying from the dealers on account of the strike and also due to very cheap prices offered by them as they fear no loss on their purchases at such a level.

Before the strike the Mills had with them about 35/40 thousand bales of yarns unsold, but at present they have not got more than 10/15 thousand bales in all most of them being higher counts. If the strike continues for a month more in all probability stocks of yarns with the Mills will be nil. As a result of the strike in Bombay, up-country mills have been realising better prices for their yarns and foreign imports have been steadily increasing.

BRITISH LABOUR AND STRIKE.

MR. J. TURNER'S SYMPATHY.

VICIOUS EXCISE DUTY.

Mr. John Turner, the well-known British Trade Unionist, came to Bombay by the P. and O. mail boat "Rawalpindi" on Friday morning. A representative of the "Bombay Chronicle" interviewed him and asked him if he had come to India for any special mission. "None whatever" said Mr. Turner, "I came because I wanted to see India and when I filled the passport form in England in the column as to why I was going to India I wrote down 'pleasure trip.' He added, however, that along with his trip he hoped to get some information on the question of Indian Labour.

Q.—So then you are not deputed by any labour union or association? A.—None whatever, though I have promised the General Council of the Trade Union Congress to give any information I can on the Labour question in India, Japan and China.

Q.—How long will you tour in India? A.—I expect to be back in England in April or May next. From India I will go to Colombo and then to China and Japan, and thence to Australia and South Africa and then to England.

LABOUR PARTY AND INDIA.

Q.—May I know, Mr. Turner, as to what the general attitude of the Labour Party is towards India now? A.—I do not feel entirely competent to express any view on this question. The Labour Party is generally dealing with imperial questions while the Trade Union Congress deals with the economic questions. The resolutions passed by the Trade Union Congress is very sympathetic towards India. The Labour Party is a political party, while the Trade Union is an economic institution. I am a trade unionist and not a politician.

Q.—What is the reason of Mr. Ramsay Macdonald's failure to do justice to India? A.—It may be because Mr. Macdonald spoke many things about India before he became a Premier which he could not fulfil as a Premier. The Labour Party knew very well that it was likely to be turned out any day and, therefore, it had to "walk the bottles" and to be very careful as to how they walked the political bottles".

Q.—Can you tell me, Mr. Turner, why the labour leaders supported Lord Birkenhead and made the Indian question a non-party question? A.—I am not a politician as I told you and I am thousands of miles away from London and it is difficult for me to reply to this question. As I told you there is a great distinction between trade unionism and politics. There are many labour leaders who are employers of large labour and are politicians and yet not trade unionists.

INDIA'S LOST FAITH.

Q.—Does the Labour Party know that India has almost lost its faith in the labour leaders in England owing to their lip sympathy? A.—Those who take interest in the world-wide movement on the labour question do know what India feels but not all.

Q.—Do Messrs. Macdonald and Thomas really lead the Labour Party now? A.—They have a great influence on the Labour Party.

Q.—What is the attitude of the British Labour Party towards Indian textile labour and the present strike of 150,000 operatives? A.—Well the Englishmen's sympathy is generally of the Quaker's kind, viz.: humane. I am going to wire to Mr. Bramley, the General Secretary of the Council of Trade Union Congress for help for the strikers and if British Labour is sympathetic towards their brethren in India they are sure to send some help and we will see their attitude from the help they give.

EXCISE DUTY—VICIOUS.

Q.—What is you opinion about the Excise Duty in India?

A.—It is bad in principle and if it was imposed in Britain they would consider it as vicious. But I would like to know more about it before I give my reply as to why it has been imposed. I have to study the question of Labour and it is too premature for me to give a reply before knowing the reasons of the Government.

Walter P. Chrysler's
Latest Achievement

Walter P. Chrysler's full conception of what a four-cylinder car should be has now become a reality.

Mr. Chrysler announces the new Chrysler Four, companion car to the Chrysler Six. IT IS HERE, READY FOR YOUR INSPECTION Whether you are a car owner or not, by all means see this new Chrysler creation. Ride in it. Get to know the latest Chrysler achievement which the master car builder indentifies with his own name.

It will amaze you, for it is our firm conviction that the new Chrysler Four represents a better and finer combination of power, speed, fuel mileage and charm of appearance than any other four in the world to-day.

The wonderful riding qualities of the new Chrysler Four cannot be described. You must experience them to know what an advance has been made in the four-cylinder field. It is enough to say that a ride will amaze and delight you.

And when you ride you'll notice the absolute quietness of the four-cylinder engine, you'll find no rumble or tremors in the body of the car. Here is a car you can truly drive all day without fatigue. It is hardly ever necessary to shift gears, except for starting from a dead stop. When shifting is necessary it is made clean and noiselessly by the matched transmission gears and easy clutch action.

There has never been the like of the new Chrysler Four at anywhere near its price. Be prepared for a great revelation.

Far ahead in power, speed, fuel mileage, beauty; in safety, ease and complete and perfect road ability.

First car of its price with hydraulic four-wheel brakes.

Delivers 38.5 horse-power—83 per cent. more power certainty and performance than its official rating.

Positive full force-feed lubrication, giving far more efficient lubrication with no increase in oil consumption.

We cordially invite you to come and see us: to ask us questions and to try these cars for yourself. There is no obligation to buy what-so-ever. We are willing to prove any statement we make.

BRITISH "DIE-HARDS" IN CONFERENCE.

ADOPT REACTIONARY PROPOSALS.

PREMIER'S REPLY TO CRITICS.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The Conservative Conference carried with acclamation a resolution urging amendment to and enforcement of the law dealing with treasonable offences by bringing within its ambit plotters against constitutional authority. The mover suggested that such should include persons inciting workers to dislocate any public service, molesting anyone engaged in lawful work and preaching class war.

The Conference passed a resolution viewing with alarm the continued industrial depression and urging support to Government in applying the Safeguarding of Industries Act.

Mr. Pagecroft moved a resolution referring to the recent attacks on Government by a section of the Conservative Press and said daily pin-pricks of personal vendetta against Mr. Baldwin and attempts to thwart British Foreign Policy were unworthy of journalism.—Reuter.

MR. BALDWIN'S DEFENCE.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

A crowded gathering, including a number of Ministers, listened to the speech of Mr. Baldwin at the Conservative Conference at Brighton which was in the nature of a reply to his critics. The Prime Minister outlined the Government's achievements hitherto, specially referring to the benefits conferred by the widows' Pension Act and conferred by the Widows' Pension Act and gards Foreign Policy, he said, "We will make a treaty of mutual guarantees subject to the sole condition that Germany must join the League. The treaty must be bilateral and of a purely defensive character." He had every hope that the same principles which guided us in the West might be applied for permanent pacification of eastern Europe.—Reuter.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Mr. Baldwin said there had been a great deal of misapprehension as regards Mosul and pointed out that except a small rectification of the frontier we were not concerned in claiming any territory from the Turks which we did not control to-day. Government had no reason to think that Turkey would not fulfil the obligations of honour. A Cabinet Committee was considering the reform of the House of Lords. Britain had succeeded in the stupendous accomplishment of reducing the national expenditure by one-third during the past five years. The Chancellor of Exchequer was determined to make a substantial reduction in the next estimates.

Referring to Communism, Mr. Baldwin said the extremists' efforts would fail here, and in France, as they had failed in America and Germany. No minority, however well-organised, could be allowed to tyrannise over a country. Government would employ all its power to deal with the attempts to seduce troops and seditious speeches. He concluded: "I have been told that the country wants a Mussolini, but the English people will never tolerate a dictator. They will never tolerate being Prussianised or Russianised."—Reuter.

Referring to Mosul, Mr. Baldwin said: "We have been concerned not with the issue of war but with the implement of the treaty of peace." He declared that the case on behalf of Britain and Iraq had been stated with cogency and studied moderation by Mr Amery at Geneva, and he denied that it had been provocatively presented (as it had been alleged by some newspapers.) The Premier re-stated the British argument, and emphasised that Mr. Amery's action throughout had Government's full approval, and it afforded the strongest possible proof of Government's willingness to arbitrate on questions of the highest importance and abide by the sentence. He asked them with patience to await the result of arbitration. He believed there was no reason to think that Turkey would not equally with ourselves fulfil her obligations of honour.—Reuter.

NO PEACE TILL WORKER GETS FREEDOM.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

The Conservative Conference opened today in an atmosphere of satisfaction at Mr Baldwin's speech, as the result of which, one delegate said, the working man will be more than ever with Mr. Baldwin.

A resolution was carried demanding amendment to the Trade Union Act of 1913 declaring that peace was unattainable while workers did not get political freedom.—Reuter.

ABDEL KRIM—A REFUGEE?

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Fez—Abdel Krim, alarmed at the French and Spanish successes has taken refuge with his brother Si Mohammed in the Beiarous Mountains, where it is reported he has assembled his reserves of arms and munitions.

A large number of tribesmen through whose country the French are marching northward on Kiffane are offering submission.—Reuter.

RIFFS' COUNTER-ATTACK.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Paris.—Relatives and followers of Mohamed Zerkane and other notables executed by the order of Abdel Krim are openly revolting against their chieftain, and fighting has already occurred according to advices from Tangier.

Meanwhile a Fez message says that Abdel Krim and his two brothers and certain Kerira have collected a contingent of warriors at Pont, eight miles south of Ajdir, and are preparing to counter-attack the Spaniards at Alhucemas or the French on the north of Kiffane.—Reuter.

DRUSE COUNCIL OF WAR.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Beirut.—It is reported that Sultan Atrash leader of the insurgents, summoned the Druse chiefs to a council of war, when it was decided to continue the struggle against the French.—Reuter.

BRITAIN AND MOSUL.

"PROBABLY NO DEFINITE DECISION TO BE TAKEN."

LONDON, Oct 8.

Although official information is not available, Reuter understands that probably no definite decision with regard to Britain's future policy in regard to Mosul question will be taken until the Hague Court has reported on the Juridical points referred to it by the League.

Rumours that the Air Force officers on furlough in England from 'raq have had their leave cancelled and that other Air Force officers who started on leave have been recalled are officially repudiated. The Air Ministry explains that regular annual trooping movements are at present being carried out.—Reuter.

CONFERENCE BREAKS UP.

GERMANS MAINTAIN THEIR STAND-POINT.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Locarno—A communique says:—The fourth meeting of the Security Pact Conference was devoted to the consideration of questions raised by participation in the League of Nations of the eventual signatories to the Security Pact, in the course of which the French, German, British, Belgian and Italian representatives set forth the views of their respective Governments. The Conference then adjourned till October 10th.—Reuter.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Locarno.—Although discussions at to-day's sitting were carried out in the friendliest spirit and were marked by a desire to reach an agreement, the problem of Article 16 of the Covenant of the League is far from being solved. As the Germans firmly maintain their standpoint on this question, the Conference broke up, leaving it to the chiefs of delegations to try and arrive at a common formula.—Reuter.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The Miners' Delegate Conference has rejected the Executive's recommendation to co-operate with the Coal Commission.—Reuter.

NO BOYCOTT OF FEDERATION

LONDON, Oct. 8.

(Message delayed owing to telegraphic mutilation).

It is believed that the decision of the Miners Delegate Conference does not necessarily mean that the Federation will decline to participate in the Commission. The adverse vote in which 352,600 voted in favour of the executive's recommendation and 477,000 against it was due to the fact that the recommendations did not express the Federation's protest against the base rate of reductions strongly enough. The executive will again submit its recommendation to-morrow, but embodying this view and it will probably be adopted.—Reuter.

FASCISTS ENROLMENTS OVER 800,000

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Rome.—At the Fascist Grand Council, the General Secretary of the Party reported that the Fascist enrolments were now over 800,000 an increase of 150 thousand compared with 1924. The Council noted this with satisfaction and invited the Fascist centres to suspend further enrolments. The Council has also undertaken stricter revision.—Reuter.

HON. MR. V. J. PATEL.

Bombay, Oct. 9.

The Hon. Mr. V. J. Patel, President of the Legislative Assembly, will arrive on the morning of the 22nd by the Gujarat Mail at Nadiad and not on the 21st as previously announced. He will be in Nadiad for the whole of the 22nd and visit Karamsad, Borsad, Bhadram and other places by motor on the 23rd. He will proceed to Surat on the 24th and will be in Broach on the 25th and Baroda on the 26th.—A. P.

LOOT AT WORLI.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

WORLI, Oct. 9.

Consternation prevails in the B. D. D. chawls area, specially amongst shopkeepers, owing to a raid made on the best hotel of the area by Mangarddis who are squatting in and about the B. D. D. chawls. At about 7-30 p.m. on Thursday evening, about 20 mangarddis entered the hotel for "dinner" and after doing full justice to the meals served to them, picked up a quarrel on payment being demanded, looted and ransacked the hotel, injured the waiters, fisted the manager, wounded the proprietor at desk, while a gang of about thirty waiting outside the premises hurled stones at the hotel. Police, however, arrived and restored order. Tenants of B. D. D. chawls are fleeing away for fear of any possible happenings of the kind. If these criminal classes are allowed to remain in the chawls all the chawls will be deserted shortly.

A SKETCH OF YOUR LIFE FREE

"YOU CAN BANISH YOUR TROUBLES"
Says famous Astrologer.

A sketch or delineation of ones life is as important to a right thinking person as the chart of sea is to a sailor. Why go about blindfold when you can, by simply writing a letter, obtain the precise information which may lead you to success and happiness?

FOREWARNED IS FOREARMED.

Prof. Roxroy will tell you how you can be successful, what are your favourable and unfavourable days, when to begin a new enterprise or start on a journey, when and whom to marry, when to ask for favours, make investments or speculate. All these and many other things can be told from the chart of your life.

Mme. E. Servagnet, Villa Petit Paradis, Alger, says:—"I am quite satisfied with my Horoscope, which reveals with great accuracy past and present facts, giving with fidelity the traits of my character, the state of my health, lifting discreetly the veil of the future and adding very valuable advice. The work of Prof. Roxroy is marvellous."

To get a short sketch of your life free, simply give the date, month, year and place of your birth. Write your name and address clearly with your own hand and mail it to Prof. Roxroy at once. If you wish you may enclose 6 annas to pay postage clerical charges, etc.

Address:—ROXROY, Dept. 1001 M. Emmastraat, 42, The Hague, Holland. Postage to Holland 3 annas.

MR. TAMBE'S METAMORPHOSIS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Oct. 9.

Considerable political interest has been aroused in Bengal over the appointment of Hon. Mr. Tambe as member of the Executive Council of the Governor of Central Provinces. Hon. Mr. Tambe was elected President of the C. P. Council by large majority of Swarajists votes. According to the Swarajist Constitution, Mr. Tambe, as a Swarajist member, could not accept the post without the consent of the General Council of the Swaraj Party. An announcement on the subject is expected from Pandit Motilal Nehru and Dr. Moonje, but so far it is known Mr. Tambe took the initiative of accepting the office himself and did not consult his Swarajist colleagues. Prominent Swarajists here are infuriated over Mr. Tambe's metamorphosis which is a serious blow to party discipline; but hope is expressed that Mr. Tambe will undoubtedly be a better man than Sir Moropant Joshi whom he succeeds and Government will discover in him a fighting politician for the welfare of the country.

Anglo-Indian papers have received the news with jubilation.

Don't be a Slave to KIDNEY TROUBLE

KIDNEY Trouble is recognised as a serious complaint, but you should not let it make you miserable or spoil your life. In the majority of cases De Witt's Pills will quickly restore the kidneys to a healthy, active state, and thus help to overcome the trouble.

There is no need for alarm, and no reason why the ailment should get the upper hand, and make a slave of you. The only thing to remember is that prompt treatment often saves much suffering, and prevents the ailment getting a firm hold. That is why you should get De Witt's Pills quickly. The cost is trifling, and a remedy that has been used with success in many thousands of cases, cannot fail to do you good. Do the right thing now—

Writing from 26 Curtis Road, New Southgate, London, N. Mrs. G. Perry says: "When I was suffering with Kidney Trouble and my back was aching as if it would break in two I read an advertisement for De Witt's Pills. I got a box at once and they did even more for me than the advertisement promised. My health is now splendid."

THE COLOUR BAR.

Table Conference will materialise into something concrete.

Mr. F. A. Laughton, K.C., said all that he had intended to urge was that the Indians should be taken into consultation regarding the Bill, and that if, as they contended, it was oppressive, Europeans should refuse to sanction it. He said the Government should come into conference with the Indians over this Bill, and hear their objections so that amendments might be made. To do this a board say of three Europeans, should be appointed, one to represent the views of Europeans, another that of the Indians, and the third an impartial chairman.

In the course of an eloquent speech the Rev. A. Lamont said they all knew behind the scenes that it was not the smoke screen of Wakkerstrom by-election sixteen months ago that caused the downfall of Smuts Government. The real cause was the Areas Bill —(Applause)—and he had a suspicion that many on the opposition side of Parliament and in the country were somewhat relieved that a new Government was at the helm to pull the chestnuts out of the fire to appease the general anti-Asiatic sentiment prevailing throughout the country. The Asiatic question was not a political question at all; it went deeper than that. It was a question of fairplay and justice to British subjects resident in S. A. and it interested not only the Union Government, but the Imperial Government as well. It was not so much the details of the Bill that he was against, but the Spirit of the Bill as a whole. As a staunch supporter of the present Government on almost every question except the Indian question, he did hope that the bill would not be passed, for it will perpetuate an injustice (Applause.)

THE NATIVE VIEW.

The Rev. John L. Dube said: You Indians have India and influential people behind you, and have influential friends in the Empire. We have no friends—who are our friends (Shouts of "Indians" and loud applause). I have come here to express my sympathy for you because I feel for everyone who is oppressed because I know what is to be oppressed. My people have been oppressed, repressed and knocked down many times." (Loud Applause).

The first resolution was proposed by Mr. J. Raveppen. The Minister had said, he remarked, that the Indians were aliens. He wished to say Dr. Malan and his following, men of unknown quantity, had had the impudence to call Indians, British subjects of the Empire, aliens.

"I say Dr. Malan and his following are aliens, they are not civilised themselves because they did not know the meaning of civilisation. Dr. Malan and his crowd have yet to go to a civilised school until they appreciate the honour and dignity of the Indian Empire," said Mr. Royeppen. It was difficult in speaking of the Bill to use the words of moderation, for the Bill was most un-British, the most unchristian, and the most inhuman it was possible for the mind of man to conceive. It was un-British because it outraged the last principle of fairplay and justice as known among people of British birth and breeding. It was unchristian because a professedly Christian Government had set aside Christ himself in this their diabolical handiwork. It was inhuman because the Bill was a black record of the negation of that one touch of nature which made the whole world kin. The new bill evidenced as nothing else could the lack of true power which ought to mark civilised governments. But it evidenced something even more disastrous, it evidenced the beginning of the end of the ruling race. "Whom the gods wished to destroy they first make mad," and the Bill was the work of men who had lost their reason. Otherwise there could be only one explanation for the appearance of the measure It was the most daring attempt yet made to undermine and break up the Empire. The Bill was the best evidence of the Union Government's utter disregard of Imperial interests. It was aimed at and struck at the foundations of the Empire. The question was now put to every Britisher throughout the world. Which will you have, this bill which outrages all the known canons of civilization or will you still have the Indian Empire variously described as the brightest jewel in the British diadem, the keystone of the stupendous arch of our world-wide dominions, the pivot of the Empire's vast operations?

He then moved: That this mass meeting of Natal Indian assembled in the Durban Town Hall under the auspices of the N. I. C. hereby places on record its emphatic protest against the Areas Reservation and Immigration and Registration (Further Provision) Bill now before Parliament, which has for its object our compulsory segregation, the deprivation of our proprietary and trading rights, further restriction of our domiciliary rights and the ultimate extinction of the Indian community as openly declared by the Minister of the Interior, inasmuch as it is contrary to all known laws of equity and justice."

Mr. R. Singh seconded the motion, which was supported by Mr. R. Singh, in Hindi, Mr. M. I. Kajee in Guzarati, and Mr. R. N. Moodley in Tamil. The motion was carried amidst loud applause.

Mr. J. W. Godfrey moved the second motion which was as follows: "That this meeting of Natal Indians affirms the suggestion submitted by the S. A. Indian Congress for a Round Table Conference as the only solution for a settlement of the Indian question and requests the said S. A. I. Congress to again make representations to the Union Government with a view to bring about the conference of representatives of India, England, and S. Africa.

Mr. M. Bechasee seconded, in English and Hindi, and support was also forthcoming from Mr. Barmania in Gujarati, and Mr. S. R. Naidoo in Tamil.

Mr. John Roberts moved an amendment which however was lost and the substantive motion moved by Mr. Godfrey was carried with by a majority amidst loud applause.

"COOLY" MURDER TRIAL.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, Oct. 8.

To-day was the tenth consecutive day of hearing of the rickshaw "cooly" murder case. After cross-examination of two medical defence witnesses by the Public Prosecutor, the Court adjourned till 29th October when Lala Mohan Lal, a prosecution witness, will be examined. The defence counsel has put in a list of eleven witnesses, including those who were present at the dinner on 3rd September, at the residence of of the accused. Considerable interest has been throughout evinced by the local public, both Indian and European, as the court room was fully packed on each hearing.

Cross-examined by Kunwar Dalip Singh, Colonel Davys, the officer in charge the Kasauli Pasteur Institute, deposed that the disease of "osten arthritis" had existed in Mr. Mansell Pleydells' toes of both feet for over six months. If the accused had kicked the deceased, Jogesher, causing even minor injuries discovered in the post-mortem examination it would have materially injured accused's feet and, such injuries would not have disappeared within ten days. He could detect an injured foot within ten days. Witness refused to give any abstract opinion on this point, as he had based his opinion on personal experience gained in India where climate and humidity of atmosphere differed from places where various authors had written thir texts on the subject. Further questioned, Colonel Davys replied that tehe accused, though with discomfort could carry on ordinary avccations of life, he would be particularly prone to injury from slight causes. He could probably play tennis and dance. Witness had himself seen him play, tennis on 13th September. He remembered 11th September was witness's birthday and following Sunday was 13th. Continuing, witness stated judging by his experience of football injuries he was in a position to say that even a normal foot causing injuries as discovred in deceased's body would have been injured. Witness replied in the negative the question of Kunwar Dulip Singh whether injuries received by deceased would be caused by a stamping heel and sole of shoes. He had seen abot 500 cases of injuries caused by stamping which was very common in the Great War and especially in trench warfare. Further examined Colonel Davys said all injuries discovered in Jogeshar's body could be caused by one fall only. The cooly had just the chance of survival if he had immediate operation

Examined by Court, witness said that he had met accused several times at Kasauli and ttwice in Simla since last July and Mr. Mansell Pleydell had always complained of great trouble and pain in his feet.

MAJOR HESLOP.

Next witness, Major Heslop, mainly corroborated the statements made by Colonel Davys but differed on some points. On being examined by the prosecution counsel, he stated there were mechanical appliance for mitigating the pain of the foot affected by "osten arthritis" e.g. by putting leather bar across the sole of the shoes. Witness was positive that the disease in Mr. Mansell Pleydell's feet existed for no less than five years. He deposed that injuries as shown in the post-mortem could be caused by stamping. While former witness had declined to give answer on this point Major Heslop stated that a man falling on the left side from a height might receive all injuries which deceased received. He explained that bruises number three and four being on opposite sides could be caused on turnover on the ground as the cooly could not have fallen as a dead weight.

COTTON TELEGRAPHIC INFORMATION SERVICE

EST. UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF SETH VRAJLAL RANCHHORDAS TARWALA.

BOON TO COTTON MERCHANTS

We have pleasure in announcing that having had wide experience as Commission Agents for 15 years in Cotton, Linseeds, bullion, etc., markets, we have now organised a Special Service for giving instantaneous and effective information as to the prevailing rates for these markets and as to the tone of the markets of the important world centres, and the fluctuations thereto, and have carefully and at great cost selected a staff of experienced and able hands for the purpose.

We have experienced and influential Agents in the New York, Liverpool and London Markets, who supply us by cable hourly information relating the tone and fluctuations in the markets there, and we undertake to transmit them to our constituents promptly through our efficient staff together with any information that may be desired by them with regard to the Bombay markets

In addition to telegraphic information, we also furnish weekly reports regarding the general condition of the market and the forecasts for the week to follow.

We charge a comparatively very moderate commission of Annas Eight per telegram relating to (1) Bombay markets rates, or (2) Liverpool opening quotations and fluctuations; or (3) New York futures—opening, closing etc.—and any information relating to the tendency of the markets.

Information as to the rates of Liverpool and New York, and the fluctuations there upto 8 and 10 points respectively, will be supplied immediately by telephone service to the Local constituents as also to those at outside stations such as Ahmedabad, Surat, Sholapur, Poona etc.—having trunk telephone connections, at rates which would be quoted on application.

Constituents desiring to have direct telegrams from our foreign Agents should negotiate with us.

Our Private Code will be supplied to those who desire to use it for communications.

N. B.—The Service will only be commenced on receipt of sufficient deposits, to be replenished from time to time, to meet the charges.

Make no mistake!

Kidney troubles are often misunderstood, and much needless pain and discomfort is endured as a consequence. The work of the kidneys is to filter the blood, and if they fail to do so, uric acid and other poisonous impurities upset the entire system. That is why it is so dangerous to neglect backache, urinary disorder, bladder weakness, rheumatic twinges, headaches, dizziness and nervousness.

It is unusual for all of these symptoms to be present at one time, but if you are in doubt about yourself, you will do well to use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Don't risk the development of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, dropsy, gravel, stone, and other results of kidney disorder. Middle-aged people, especially, should take an occasional course of Doan's to keep the kidneys thoroughly active.

BETTER BABIES.

There is nothing that brings such a happiness to family as a bright, healthy child, and nothing causes more sorrow than to see a Deformed child, or to have one who is not healthy, as such child is a living disgrace to the family.

We have such facts before us, yet we neglect. Therefore, anything that will improve the condition of Deformed Children must be welcomed by all of us. If your child is suffering from any Deformity, such as Spinal Curvature, Infantile Paralyses, Cure Legs or any other defects please do not fail to call at our place, and you will see how hundreds of Deformed children are attended to by us.

In addition to treating Deformed Children we take X-Ray Photographs in cases requiring same.

Our qualified Consulting Specialist has wide practical experience and enjoys the advantages of extensive studies in various subjects relating to Deformities.

From the 1st of January 1924. our House has been appointed by the SECRETARY OF STATE for India in Council to treat all cases of DEFORMITY and to prepare ARTIFICIAL LIMBS and ORTHOPAEDIC APPLIANCES for all deformed patients belonging to the Civil and Military Hospitals in India.

For information, please apply to the Superintendent, Zander Orthopaedic and Medico-Electric Institute.
